ON THE COVER: Baylor has fielded some of the SWC's best defenses recently, and that tradition should continue in 1990 because of players like All-American candidate Santana Dotson, DT.

Baylor University

Chartered in 1845 by the Republic of Texas, the state's oldest university proudly embodies the bold pioneering spirit of her founding fathers.

Baylor University, as the world's largest Baptist institution of higher education, strives to provide foremost academic opportunities in a Christian environment.

From space research to preserving endangered plant species, the reach of the Baylor family extends immeasurably. Academic challenges abound for the university's more than 11,500 students.

Undergraduates may choose from 35 baccalaureate degree programs covering more than 110 major areas of study. Coursework is enhanced by opportunities to study beyond the classroom, including the university's international programs and hands-on experiences such as archaeological digs from Waco to Israel.

Baylor has more than 600 faculty members, and 96 percent of all classes are taught by professors. The student-faculty ratio is 19:1, and a typical class numbers 35 students.

In addition to academic pursuits, students find plentiful social occasions to round out their educational adventures. More than 200 social, service, professional, religious and honorary organizations—from Phi Beta Kappa to national sororities and fraternities, the nation's first collegiate chapter of Habitat for Humanity, and the first Baptist Student Union—are recognized by the university.

Baylor also is the home of the 1989 National Debate Champions, a prestigious honor awarded to the country's best scholastic debate team. (Baylor debate squads previously won the title in 1975 and 1987.) Numerous lectures by prominent speakers plus quality performances by musicians and entertainers magnify the university's desire for students to "make a living and make a life."

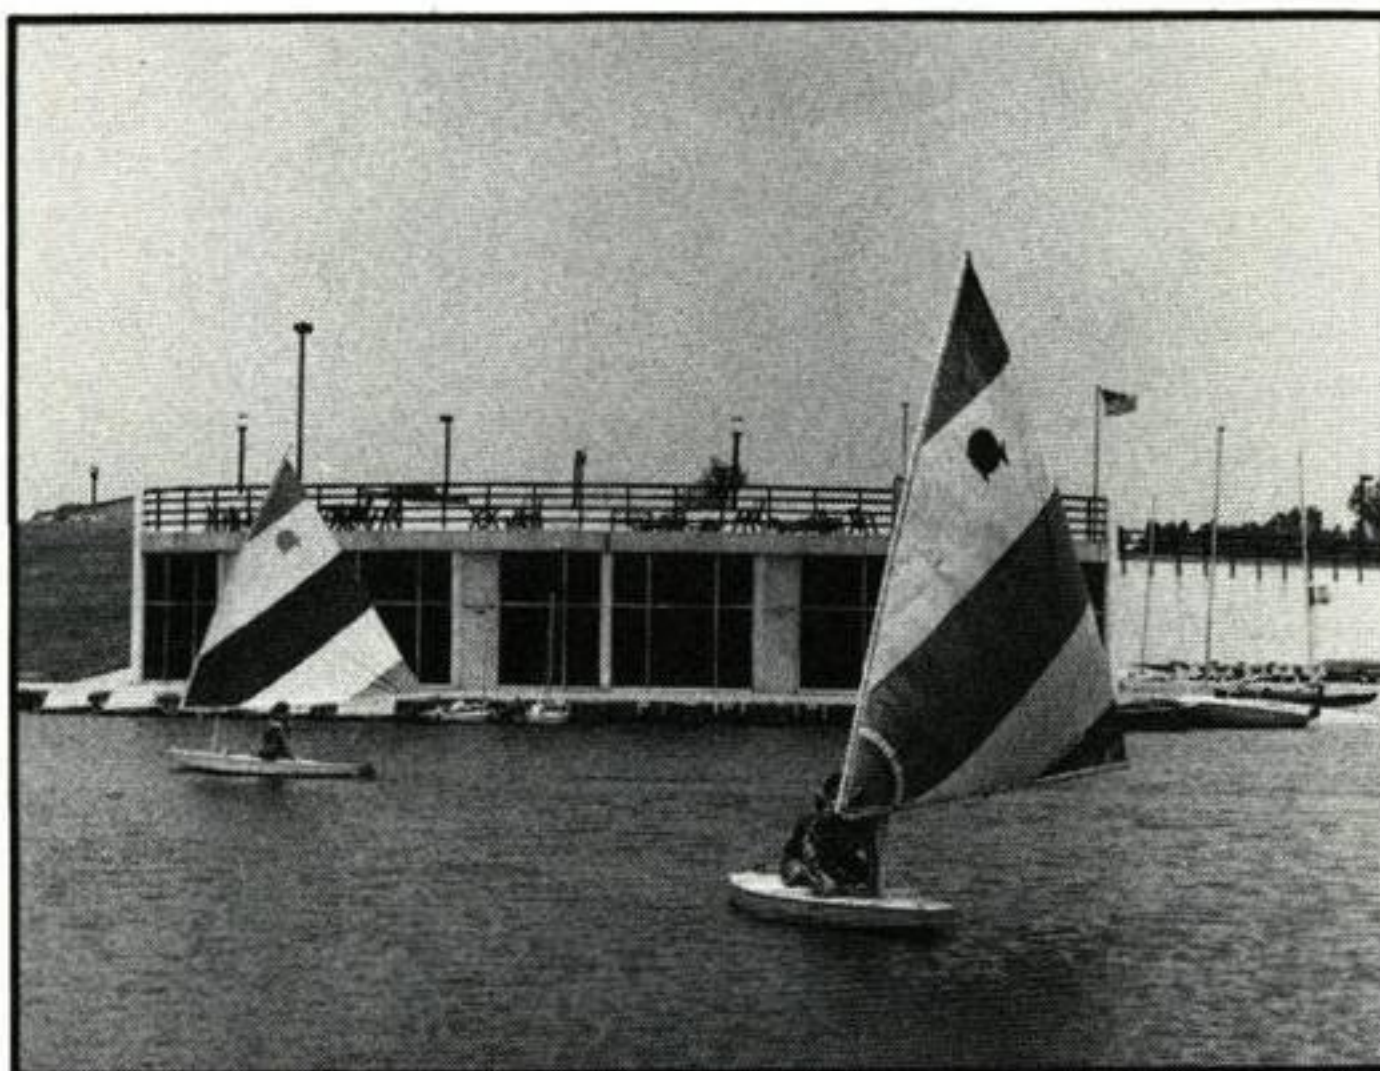

Varsity sports teams in football, baseball, women's volleyball, men's and women's basketball, track, tennis and golf participate as members of NCAA Division I and the 76-year-old Southwest Athletic Conference (Baylor was a charter member). For non-varsity student athletes, the university provides an extensive program of intramural sports and recreation facilities for swimming, tennis, racquetball, sailing, canoeing and boating.

The approximate annual cost to attend Baylor for the school year 1990-91 is $9,525, based on 30 semester hours with room and board but excluding travel costs or personal expenditures. Four basic forms of financial aid—scholarships, grants, loans and campus jobs—are available; merit and need are qualifying factors in determining aid recipients. About 60 percent of the student body receive assistance.

Prospective students should rank in the top half of their high school class, preferably in the top quarter, and they should present acceptable scores on the SAT of the College Board or the ACT of the American College Testing program. Students who wish to transfer to Baylor and who have completed at least 30 semester hours must present transcripts of all work verifying a minimum overall grade point average of 2.5 (on a 4.0 scale), plus a 2.5 or better GPA during their last semester and must be eligible to return to the last school they attended.

From the main campus on the banks of the Brazos River in Waco (estimated population of 110,000) deep in the heart of Texas, Baylor charges her students, faculty, staff and alumni to seek avenues to enhance the quality of life at home and beyond. It is a challenge many answer in a variety of methods, from student drives to gather canned goods, clothing and blood to missionary work and community involvement later in life. Baylor is making the difference for tomorrow . . . today.

The Outlook From Bear Country

Who says you can't go home again? Baylor coach Grant Teaff did when he moved into the 1990s by moving back to the offense he brought to the Southwest Conference in 1972, the I-formation veer.

"We went back to what had been good to us in the past and what has been successful in the Southwest Conference," the Baylor mentor of 19 years says. "We believe that you still have to be able to run the ball to win in this league and that's what the veer does best.

"That does not mean we won't throw the ball; it means we'll be more balanced and more efficient with our passing game. We want to be able to control the ball running, complete 60 percent of our passes and cut down on turnovers, especially interceptions.

"We may not throw as much, but we'll enjoy it more."

Specifically, Teaff would like to see the offense commit no more than 13-15 turnovers in 1990. That translates into about one interception per 25 passes and one fumble per 60 running plays.

Teaff and his coaching staff started the switch last spring. When it was all said and done, the move was hailed as a resounding success.

"I thought the implementation process went extremely well," Teaff said. "The players responded in a very positive way and that was a big plus. We had to make position moves and teach players how to run a new offense, but we adjusted well."

As important as the change in offensive formation, Teaff says, was a change in outlook.

"The past few years we ran an offense that dropped back and read defenses. We tried to influence people. Now we're trying to control the line and thus the game. Now we're more aggressive. We're coming off the ball and getting after people."

The change in attack and attitude makes Baylor's first season of the decade one of the most interesting in recent memory. Eight offensive starters are back to accept the challenge.

The veer is known as an "inside-out" offense, meaning a team must be strong up the middle to run effectively. Getting the hard yards from the fullback allows an offense to gain big yards with the tailback pitch or quick-hitting passes.

An outstanding center and pair of guards return as All-SWC candidates, which should help the inside phase of the veer. The fullback spot, however, will feature youth as a three-year starter graduated. It should be noted, though, that the young fullbacks do have fine potential. They just need time to become established.

The outside running game is the flip side of the coin: the tailbacks are talented and deep, but the tackles are young. A solid returning starter and two other backs who actually vied for the No. 1 spot last spring will make the tailback position the strength of the offense. At tackle, and all across the line depth chart, youth dominates.

The receiving corps looks good at the wideout spot and excellent at the two inside positions. The veer emphasizes a sharply executed controlled passing game, and the right kind of pass catchers for such an offense are on the squad.

All the quarterbacks did a good job adjusting to the veer. A three-year starter heads the pack, but the depth behind him is all young and inexperienced. Teaff hopes his young QBs are not forced to enter the fray before they are ready.

Three factors loom as the key to Baylor's offensive resurgence this fall: new players need to produce at tackle and fullback, the starting unit must remain as injury-free as possible because overall depth is a concern and the offense as a whole has to execute the veer without major mistakes for it to work well.

No big moves were made defensively, and why not? Baylor has finished among the country's best defenses the past five years, and it should again be solid with eight starters back.

The only big holes to fill are at linebacker where All-American James Francis and All-SWC Gary Joe Kinne graduated. They will be replaced by smaller players who will have to rely on speed and hitting ability. Linebacking depth is perhaps the entire team's biggest concern.

The defensive line, which was outstanding last year, has basically the same people. It is hoped the front four will rise to the level of last year's linebackers and control things defensively.

The secondary will not have the services of All-American Robert Blackmon for the first time in four years, but it should be as outstanding as ever. There is so much talent in the Bear defensive backfield that two or three players with All-SWC potential might not even start.

It is hoped the defense will carry the Bears through the early growing pains of running a new offense. If the defenders can pick up where they left off a year ago, and they should, then the early going might be made easier for the offense.

The Bears special teams should be more than adequate. Kicker Jeff Ireland had a very good sophomore season and he should be ready to emerge as one of the top field goal men in the 1990 conference.

All-conference punter Pete Rutter graduated, but Kent Brentham should do a good job. He has the ability to produce consistent 40-yarders and good hang time.

The return men are all back after doing a good job last season.

POSITION-BY-POSITION

It is not stretching the truth to say anybody who plays in the Baylor secondary has All-SWC potential. Starting safety Mike Welch came back from knee surgery last season and after a slow start played outstanding ball by the end of the year. He is the "quarterback" of the backfield as well as the SWC's only first-team Academic All-American. Teaff says Welch "is as good as there is" in the conference.

The fiery Trooper Taylor backs up Welch in fine fashion. A great athlete who also returns kicks for the Bears, Taylor would be a very good starter for most teams.

Keith Caldwell moved from free to strong safety last spring. The switch was simply a matter of Caldwell having too much talent to play only sparingly. A former member of the national high school record 400-meter relay, Caldwell has the blazing speed needed in today's secondaries. He is backed up by a talented sophomore who emerged in spring training, Michael McFarland.

Both corners are All-SWC caliber senior players. Charles Bell may be the best athlete on the field. A former state prep hurdles champion, he has skills comparable to former Bear great Ron Francis.

Malcolm Frank very quietly went about his business last year and received some second-team All-SWC honors. He is a player who simply does not make mistakes. BU coaches say they have never had a player consistently score as high in post-game grades as Frank.

The backup corners should receive considerable playing time just because there will be little, if any, letdown when they're on the field. Senior Frankie Smith and junior Farias Walker can both get the job done. Fred Robertson and Clifford Ellison, both juniors, provide unusually talented depth.

Baylor coaches feel so good about the defensive line, both the tackles and ends, they are giving them the responsibility to make the defense's big plays this fall. With a group dominated by upperclassmen, they should be up to the task.

Four tackles who could start for just about anybody are on campus. Santana Dotson, a consensus All-SWC performer last year, was pushed hard all spring by Greg Oefinger. Both are prototype big, strong, quick defensive tackles.

The steady Reggie Howard, a solid veteran, holds down the other tackle position. He shares playing time with Marcus Lowe, a player who transferred in last season, played well and had an outstanding spring. He has the ability to make remarkable plays running down ball carriers.

Teaff says Baylor may never have had a better group of four tackles in his career.

The starting ends are both on par with any the league has to offer. Robin "Big Cat" Jones and John Godfrey have all it takes to be outstanding. There is a dropoff in experience behind Jones and Godfrey, but not much in talent.

Former tailback Anthony Ray completed the move to defensive end last spring and came on strong at the end. He looks to be particularly adept at pass rushing. Lamone Alexander and Charles Jenkins are redshirt freshmen who showed in the spring they should have solid futures. Transfer Teddy Patton provides good depth.

The ends as a group might be a year behind the tackles in mature talent, but they are expected to come on strong as the season progresses.

Speed has replaced size in the Baylor linebacking corps this fall. All three starters, Lee Bruderer in the middle, Daniel Morgan at weakside and Curtis Hafford at strongside, are not the biggest linebackers in the league, but they can fly to the ball and hit when they get there.

Linebackers

|-------------|-------------------------------------|
| SLB: | 99 Curtis Hafford, Jr-2L, 6-0, 197 |
| | 87 Danny Servance, Jr-Sq, 6-0, 209 |

| WLB: | 10 Daniel Morgan, Sr-3L, 5-10, 202 |
| | 6 Le'Shai Maston, So-1L, 6-0, 193 |

Morgan is a solid returnee from last year's fine defense. Hafford is a scrappy player who just gets the job done. Bruderer has yet to gain experience, but coaches feel he will be a good one in time.

The backup positions will be manned by players very short on playing time. Brian Hand in the middle and Le'Shai Maston at weakside are former defensive backs who were moved to fill holes. Hand could come into his own this year and Maston is going to be a great player some day whether in the secondary or at linebacker.

Senior squadman Danny Servance, transfer Robbie Birleson and redshirt freshman Gary Mabry round out the bunch at linebacker. The advancement of this group will be a key to the defense this year.

Running Backs

|------------|--------------------------------------|
| FB: | 32 David Loeb, So-1L, 5-11, 215 |
| | 23 Robert Strait, Fr-Sq, 6-1, 230 |
| | 20 Brent Underwood, Fr-Sq, 5-10, 205 |
| TB: | 8 Carmichael Moore, Sr-1L, 5-9, 195 |
| | 25 Eldwin Raphael, Sr-3L, 6-0, 178 |
| | 5 David Mims, So-1L, 5-9, 176 |

The tailback and fullback positions are an interesting contrast with the former being loaded with experience and the latter lacking much playing time.

At tailback, veteran Eldwin Raphael is back as one of the leading returning rushers in the conference. He is a potential 1,000-yard man, especially out of the I-formation veer where he can take the outside pitch and use his excellent speed.

Carmichael Moore gave Raphael all he wanted in spring training and actually emerged from the drills listed as the No. 1 tailback. He sat out last season with a medical redshirt, and appears to be the stronger for it. He runs hard yet has the ability to break a big gainer.

The slippery David Mims is not to be overlooked. He is one of those unique runners who has the ability to make tacklers miss him on the first shot.

David Loeb is the only fullback with any game action under his belt and his only playing time came in a limited role as a true freshman last year. He runs hard and can block well, both keys in the veer.

Robert Strait closed out spring training with two excellent scrimmages, showing flashes of his true greatness in both. With lots more hard work coming back from a scope knee operation and learning the system, he should fulfill the potential that had rated him as the nation's top schoolboy back two years ago.

Brent Underwood is a walk-on fullback who was a pleasant surprise last spring. A well-built, hard runner, Underwood fits the mold of the solid fullback. Entering into the picture in the fall will be Creig Stephens, a player who sat out last season gaining eligibility. He looks to have the physical tools to help.

Quarterbacks

QB: 16 Brad Goebel, Sr-3L, 6-4, 195
27 Steve Needham, So-Sq, 6-0, 191
28 Thomas Woodard, Fr-Sq, 6-2, 196
13 J. J. Joe, Fr-Sq, 5-11, 178

Three-year starter Brad Goebel had a solid spring while adjusting to the veer option. It was obvious to all who observed that his experience and general knowledge of the game were tremendous assets. He will do a fine job running the BU veer attack.

Behind Goebel are three players who have yet to earn a letter. Steve Needham, a sophomore, won the battle for No. 2 because of his ability to somehow get the job done running and throwing. He seems to have the so-called intangibles that all winning QBs possess.

Redshirt freshmen Thomas Woodard and J. J. Joe each had a good spring while adjusting to running the top offensive units. Both will be solid candidates for the starting role when they get more experience under their belts.

The passing game in the veer offense is a controlled attack that emphasizes a high completion percentage, very few interceptions and virtually no sacks. Each play is short and precise, designed to take advantage of a certain weakness in the defense.

Receivers

ZB: 11 Greg Anderson, Sr-3L, 5-10, 170
19 Reggie Miller, So-1L, 5-9, 167
17 David Frost, Sr-2L, 6-1, 181
YB: 89 Mike McKenzie, So-1L, 6-3, 229
86 Sean Glassco, Fr-Sq, 6-3, 231
96 Brad Stogner, Sr-Sq, 6-5, 238
XB: 80 Steve Stutsman, Jr-3L, 6-4, 223
88 Alonzo Pierce, Jr-2L, 6-1, 230
83 Melvin Bonner, So-1L, 6-3, 196

Baylor's receivers should fit well into this scheme.

The Z-Back position is what would traditionally be called a split end. Three very solid veterans are back in seniors Greg Anderson and David Frost and sophomore Reggie Miller. Between them they caught 53 passes for 816 yards last year, good production from their position.

The Y-Back is something akin to the tight end, and Baylor coaches feel they have a young star on their hands in sophomore Mike McKenzie. He has all the tools to be a great one. Very good depth is present in redshirt freshman Sean Glassco. Senior squadman Brad Stogner is back for a fifth year.

McKenzie's emergence allowed Steve Stutsman to be moved to X-Back, a position that is a hybrid tight end/flanker/wide receiver. Stutsman looks as though the position were made for him. He's a former tight end with great blocking ability, so no change in personnel is necessitated in a two-tight end set. He's a speedy pass receiver who can run with most defensive backs. And he has more size than virtually any coverage man he will face.

Suffice it to say Stutsman could play a huge role in the offense this fall.

Two good reserves play behind Stutsman. Alonzo Pierce is like Stutsman in that he is a converted tight end whose multiple talents fit the X-Back mold well. A former split end Melvin Bonner is a good talented backup.

The three inside starters, center Mark Bass and guards John Turnpaugh and Monte Jones, all have All-SWC potential. Bass is a cagey veteran who leads the offensive line. There may not be a tougher player on the team.

Turnpaugh had the best spring of his life and looks like he is now ready to improve upon last year's second-team All-SWC status. Jones is, according to coaches, on the verge of becoming one of the top linemen in the conference as well.

Teaff feels that Bass, Turnpaugh and Jones are all big plusses in the veer because the offense is designed to fire off the ball and control the line. This trio is well suited to that kind of game.

The tackle spots, and the majority of the offensive line backups, are players mostly untested by college opponents. Tackles Matt Gantt and Jeff DeLoach came out of spring as the top contenders. Gantt has one letter as a backup and DeLoach is a sophomore squadman.

Gary Camp has earned two letters as a tackle, but he missed the spring with a knee injury suffered last year. Transfer Adam Arroyo has good potential at tackle while squadmen Will Ross and Dwayne Phorne could fit into the picture eventually.

Jeff Chancellor is a fine reserve center, but he's only a redshirt freshman. The same is true of guards Craig Bellamy and John Karkoska. Other backup guards include Scott Baehren, who can also play center, and Tracey Miller, a transfer.

Perhaps the most telling fact about the line is that Baylor's top 15 offensive linemen have 10 letters between them and when you take out the three returning starters the 12 players left have 3 letters. This is enough to concern everyone associated with the program.

Specialists

K: 14 Jeff Ireland, Jr-2L, 5-8, 185
P: 9 Kent Brentham, Jr-1L, 6-1, 207

Jeff Ireland established a new school record for field goals kicked with 18 last season while missing only six. He came back from a typically off and on freshman season two years ago to produce those solid results in 1989. He should continue to develop into an outstanding kicker this year.

He is reliable from 50 yards out and sends the ball deep on kickoffs.

Punter Kent Brentham is ready to emerge from the long shadow cast by last year's all-conference man, Pete Rutter. Brentham should be good for a consistent 40-plus-yard kick and quality hang time. He also plays a vital role as the holder on extra points and field goals, a big plus when traveling to road games.

All of last year's return men are back after good, solid seasons. Malcolm Frank, Trooper Taylor and Reggie Miller on kickoffs and Greg Anderson on punts are good, if not spectacular, return men.

All in all, Baylor's special teams should be an asset, and perhaps a big plus.

Grant Teaff

Head Football Coach

Eighteen years at Baylor and 27 as head coach have proven Grant Teaff is one of the nation's top coaches running one of college football's most solid programs.

Only one coach—Penn State's Joe Paterno—has served his school longer than Teaff.

Teaff has the fourth-most Southwest Conference wins in history (69) and the seventh-most wins (107) by an SWC coach. Teaff is the nation's tenth-ranked active coach for total career wins (149), ahead of such figures as Johnny Majors, Lou Holtz, Don James and Earle Bruce.

And, as if the numbers are not impressive enough, Teaff has been named SWC Coach of the Year six times and national coach of the year once.

That Teaff has achieved such success at Baylor is nothing short of incredible.

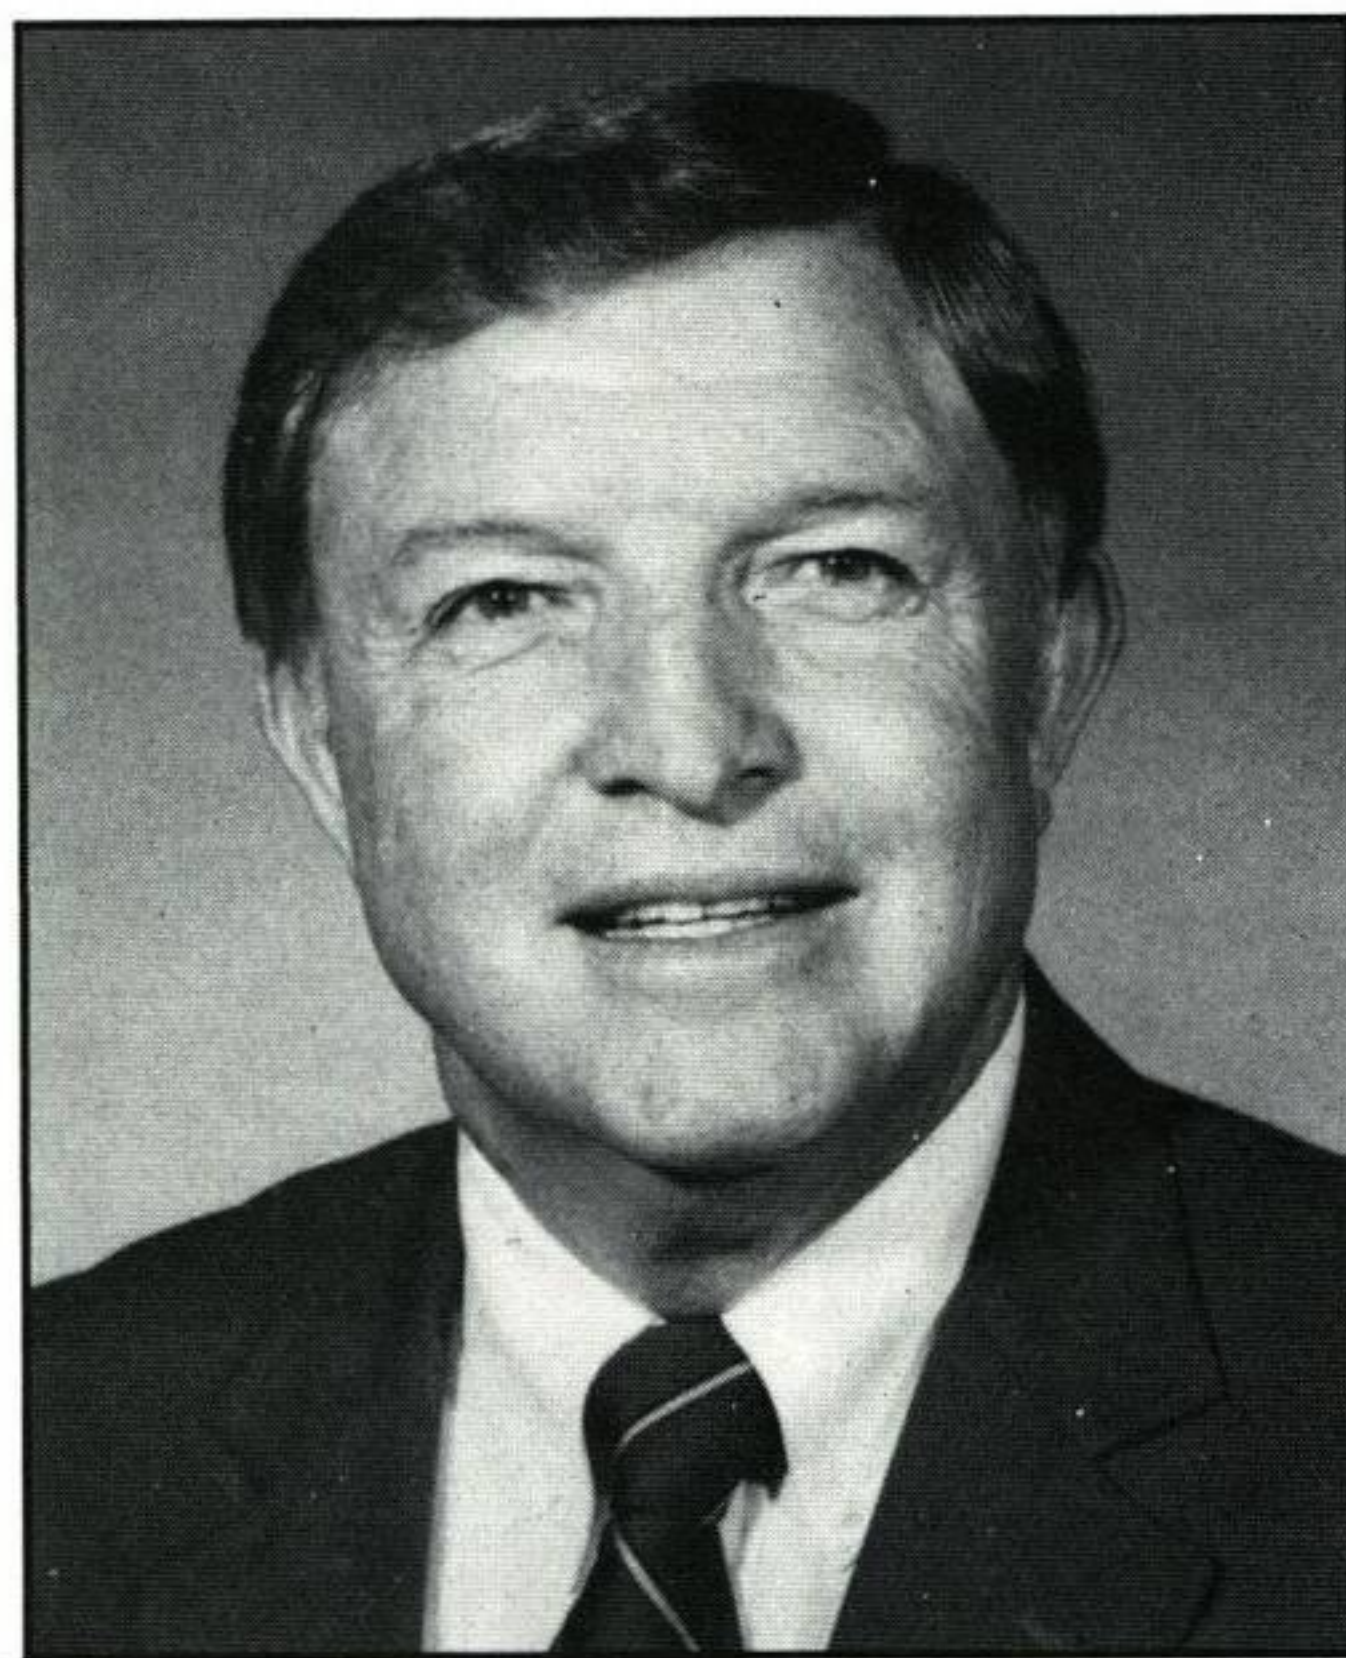

In 1972 he took over a Baylor program some experts said should drop out of the SWC. The Bears' 20th head coach inherited a team with a dismal 3-28 record the three years before he arrived. But worse than the on-field performance was the losing image the program held.

Teaff immediately went to work instilling a winning attitude in Bear faithful throughout Texas and it spilled over onto the football field. Teaff's first squad went 5-6 and came very close to earning a bowl bid. Only 13 points kept them from post-season play.

The Snyder native won SWC Coach of the Year honors in 1972 and repeated it two years later when Baylor produced "The Miracle on the Brazos," Baylor's first conference title in 50 years and first ever appearance in the Cotton Bowl. Teaff won National Coach of the Year honors that year as well.

That season broke the ice and convinced the world Baylor could not only compete with the Southwest Conference, but with any team in college football.

Since then the Bears have made a fairly regular habit of making a run at the conference title and earning a spot in a post-season bowl. In 1979 Teaff took a team picked near the bottom of the SWC and finished with an 8-4 record and a Peach Bowl victory over Clemson. Again,

Teaff was named Coach of the Year.

The 1980 Bears were picked to finish sixth in the SWC, but instead finished sixth nationally with a 10-1 record. The Bears went 8-0 in the league and took the championship by a record three games. Also, the Bears broke 28 school records and led the conference in both offense and defense.

Teaff again was named Coach of the Year.

The 1983 season was another in which Teaff's Bears stunned the SWC. Picked eighth in the pre-season polls, suffering an incredible string of injuries and playing out of revamped offensive and defensive formations with a virtually new coaching staff, Teaff put together a seven-win season and won another Coach of the Year Award.

In 1985 the Bears were picked eighth in the SWC. But Teaff's crew won nine games and set a number of school records. Baylor's only three losses that year were to Top 20 teams on the road.

Only a gut-wrenching 17-10 loss to Texas in Austin kept the Bears from getting another conference championship ring and taking their third trip to the Cotton Bowl. Instead, Baylor soundly defeated LSU in the Liberty Bowl. After the season Teaff was given his sixth Coach of the Year Award.

In 1986 Baylor proved '85 was no fluke. They finished the season 9-3 and boasted offensive and defensive squads ranked near the top of the NCAA statistics.

Only a 31-30 loss to Texas A&M in College Station kept Baylor from winning the conference and going to another Cotton Bowl. Instead the Bears won the Bluebonnet Bowl 21-9 over Big Eight runner-up Colorado.

The 1987 Bears put together a third straight winning season, going 6-5 and coming within one play of heading to a bowl game.

In 1988 Baylor defeated Texas for the seventh time in eight tries in Waco to successfully complete their fourth winning season in as many years with a 6-5 record. The 1989 season was marred by injuries, but ended with Baylor producing the most lop-sided victory (50-7) over Texas in SWC history.

In addition to producing winning football teams, Teaff has become recognized as one of college football's great statesmen. He helps shape the game as a member of the NCAA Rules Committee. He is also chairman of the American Football Coaches Association ethics committee.

With a 107-92-5 record, Teaff is Baylor's all-time winningest coach. His conference record is 69-66-3, and his overall coaching slate is 149-138-7. Since 1979 Teaff's Bears are 74-47-2.

Teaff has coached ten post-season all-star games, the East-West Shrine Game three times, the Blue-Gray Game three times, the Hula Bowl twice (including 1988), and the All-American Game and the Japan Bowl once each.

Teaff played two years of junior college football at San Angelo College and was an All-Texas Conference linebacker at McMurry College in Abilene. He was a multi-sports letterman at Snyder High School in West Texas. He captained teams at all three levels.

Teaff entered the coaching field at Lubbock High as an assistant coach. His alma mater, McMurry, then called him and he took the job as the nation's youngest head football coach. After a successful stay he went to Texas Tech as recruiting coordinator and assistant football coach. His next move was to Angelo State where, in three years, he posted a 19-11 mark, including a 7-3 record in 1971.

In 1972 he was called to Baylor to begin the challenge of his life. Bear football hasn't been the same since.

Teaff's coaching philosophy places emphasis on personal development of the individual athlete and motivation to gain maximum performance. He has coached 13 Baylor players to first team, All-American status and dozens more to All-SWC honors.

Nine of Teaff's former assistants have gone on to become head football coaches somewhere on the college level. Eddie Williamson took over the reigns at VMI and Joe Broeker became the head coach at Willamete. John O'Hara took the head job at Southwest Texas State, Bill Hicks became the head coach and athletic director at Howard Payne and Corky Nelson was appointed at North Texas.

Dal Shealy (Richmond), Bill Yung (West Texas State, UT-El Paso), Ron Harms (Texas A&I), and Pat Culpepper (Northern Illinois) left earlier after training under Teaff.

Teaff is highly regarded for his speaking ability and is one of the nation's most sought-after speakers. He is recognized widely for his speeches on motivation to reach one's full potential. Teaff is one of the country's top football clinic speakers as well. He's active in the Fellowship of Christian Athletes, and has served on its board of directors. He is currently a member of the NCAA Football Rules Committee and is a Trustee of the American Football Coaches Association.

In ceremonies at 1986 Homecoming, Teaff was awarded the Alumnus Honoris Causa for distinguished service to Baylor University. The award is given only to "a fraction of one percent" of those associated with the University.

In 1987, he was given the highest honor bestowed by the Texas High School Coaches Association, the Distinguished Service Award.

Teaff and his wife, Donell, a former Texas Tech cheerleader, have three daughters. Tammy, Tracy and Layne are all Baylor graduates. The Teaffs also have two perfect grandchildren.

Cotton Davidson

Assistant Head Coach Wide Receivers

Cotton Davidson, a member of the Baylor Athletic Hall of Fame, is beginning his eighth season as Baylor's assistant head coach and 19th year as a member of Grant Teaff's BU staff.

Davidson, who came to Baylor in 1972 when Teaff became head coach, has playing and coaching experience at every level of football.

Davidson was born November 30, 1931, in Gatesville where he still resides and ranches. He was a multi-sport star there before graduating in 1949.

Davidson, 58, earned three football and two baseball letters from 1951-53 at Baylor. He lettered at safety on Baylor's 8-2-1 Orange Bowl team and played backup quarterback to All-American Larry Isbell in 1951. He started at quarterback in 1952-53, completing 127 of 312 passes for 1,871 yards and 11 TDs. He was named All-Southwest Conference his senior year.

After his senior season, Davidson played in the East-West Shrine Classic, where he was a team co-captain, and in the College All-Star game in Chicago. Davidson graduated from Baylor in 1943 with a B.S. in physical education.

Drafted No. 1 by the Baltimore Colts, Davidson started three games as a rookie in 1954. In 1959, Davidson quit pro football and followed coach John Bridgers to Baylor to help install the Colts' famed offense.

With the formation of the American Football League in 1960, Davidson joined the Dallas Texans. He started two years and was named to the AFL All-Star team. He won AFL All-Star Game MVP honors in 1961 after tossing four touchdown passes.

From 1962-70, Davidson played for the Oakland Raiders and while there participated in the 1968 Super Bowl. During his career, Cotton played for such legendary coaches as Hank Stram, Weeb Eubank and current Raider owner Al Davis.

Davidson, who still has close ties to the NFL, rejected an offer to become the offensive backfield coach at Oakland when Teaff called in 1972. Since then he has tutored All-Southwest Conference quarterbacks Neal Jeffrey, Jay Jeffrey, Tom Muecke, Cody Carlson and Brad Goebel. All-SWC receivers Charles Dancer, Gerald McNeil, Bruce Davis and Matt Clark all blossomed under Davidson's tutelage.

Baylor's passing attack has gained over 2,000 yards every year from 1983 through 1987. In '83 Cody Carlson and Tom Muecke combined for 2,468 yards passing and in 1986, the Bears broke that mark with 2,577 passing yards.

Cotton married Carolyn Mabery on June 5, 1954, in Breckenridge, and the couple has four children and six grandchildren. Sons Tommy and Ty and daughters Kelly Wood and Tracy Sage are all Baylor graduates. Tommy was an outstanding wide receiver for the Bears from 1975-77 and was named to Baylor's All-Decade Team of the '70s. In his spare time, Cotton enjoys a little hunting and fishing.

Offensive Line

Entering his seventh season as Baylor's offensive line coach and 30th year in the coaching profession, F. A. Dry has a wealth of experience at every level of football.

A native of Fairland, Oklahoma, Dry earned 11 letters and was All-State in football before enrolling at Oklahoma A&M. After winning All-Conference and All-American honors there he received his bachelor's degree in 1953. He later earned his master's at OSU.

After serving in the U.S. Army, Dry coached in the high school ranks for five years before joining Glenn Dobbs' staff at the University of Tulsa as offensive line coach. Dry became TU's offensive coordinator in 1964 and the Golden Hurricanes responded by going 9-2 and 8-3 the following seasons. They made Bluebonnet Bowl appearances both years.

TU's 1964 team led the nation in total offense, passing and scoring while the 1965 squad led the country in total offense and scoring.

Dry left Tulsa in 1966 to become offensive line coach of the Houston Oilers. That year the Oilers won the American Football League Eastern Division championship.

Dry went back to Tulsa as head coach midway through the 1972 season and later was elevated to the position of head football coach and athletic director.

Starting with the 1973 campaign, the Golden Hurricanes reeled off four straight Missouri Valley Conference titles under Dry. TU was 6-5 in 1973, followed by 8-3, 7-4 and 7-4-1 seasons. He was named MVC Coach of the Year three times while compiling a record of 31-18-1 at Tulsa.

Dry moved to TCU in 1977 and was the head man in Fort Worth through 1982. He entered private business after leaving TCU, but came to Baylor when former line coach Eddie Williamson left to join Vince Dooley's staff at Georgia.

Since coming to Baylor in April of 1984, Dry, 59, has coached four All-Southwest Conference offensive linemen.

Dry and his wife, Jan, have three children. Diane is a Tulsa graduate while Mike was a football letterman at TCU. The youngest is Becky, a Baylor student. The Drys also have three grandchildren.

Dr. Reynolds was scheduled to join the faculty of the Air Force Academy in 1961, but he was diverted to the Aeromedical Research Laboratory at Alamogordo, New Mexico, where he became Director of Research. For the next six years he led this highly diverse and complex laboratory in unique research activities associated with the United States space program, specifically the Project Mercury, Gemini and Apollo NASA endeavors. In the midst of producing some fifty publications and maintaining flying status as an Aviation Psychologist, Dr. Reynolds also served as an adjunct graduate faculty member of both Baylor and the University of New Mexico. During his last year of Air Force duty, he was the establishing Commander of the Air Force Human Resources Research Laboratories.

In 1968, at age 38, he retired from the Air Force, having completed twenty years active duty with five decorations for meritorious service. The next year he returned to Baylor University as Executive Vice President, and on June 1, 1981, was named the eleventh president of Texas' oldest institution of higher learning.

During the last nine years $120 million in additional facilities have been added at Baylor, endowment has tripled and the total net assets of the University have more than doubled. Bill Menefee

Athletic Director

Overseeing the entire operation of Baylor's intercollegiate athletic program is Bill Menefee, now in his eleventh year as athletic director.

Menefee, who became athletic director on September 1, 1980, came to Baylor in 1947 as a physical education instructor and assistant basketball coach. His Baylor Cub freshman basketball teams went 68-50 in ten seasons. The Bear varsity squad captured four SWC championships while Menefee worked as Bill Henderson's aid.

In 1961, Menefee took over the Bear coaching reins. His first team was 4-20 and the Bears were 18-54 after Menefee's first three seasons. In 1965, the Bears vaulted to a second place finish in the SWC and a 15-9 record. Baylor enjoyed seven winning seasons over the next eight years.

Menefee won SWC Coach of the Year following the 1965, 1968, and 1969 campaigns. Baylor finished second in the conference each of those seasons, despite pre-season predictions that tabbed Menefee's team for lower finishes.

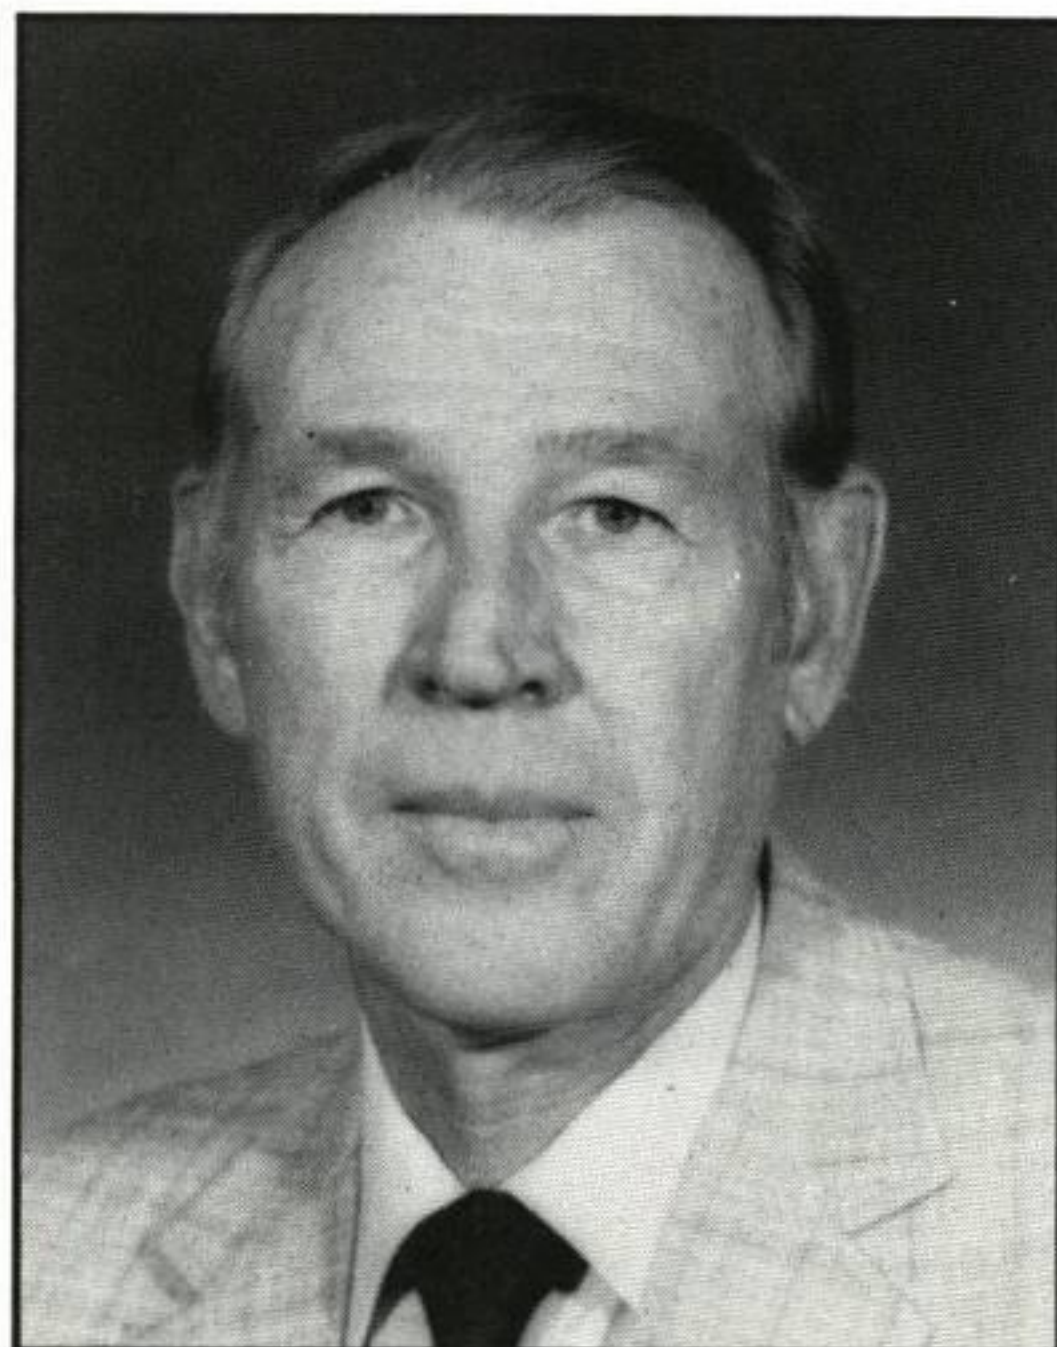

Throughout Menefee's coaching career, he was regarded as an outstanding teacher. During his tenure, Baylor's tallest player stood only 6-feet-7. Menefee continuously and effectively countered this liability with a tenacious full-court press. In twelve years (1961-73), Menefee coached the Bears to 149 wins and 144 losses.

Currently, Menefee is involved in helping the Baylor Athletic Department reach its goal of gaining $25 million in Athletic endowment by 1993. His goal is to have 200 scholarships endowed over a ten-year period.

A native of Grand Falls, Menefee earned All-American honors in 1943 at North Texas State as a forward. He served as captain of the Eagles two season and led NTSU to a third place finish in the NAIA National Tournament his senior year.

He is married to the former Dorothy Winford, a Baylor graduate, and they have two children, also Baylor graduates—Pete, an attorney in Jacksonville, and Mrs. Carol Spear, a language development teacher in Waco. They have three grandchildren.

—SOUTHWEST ATHLETIC CONFERENCE—

This season marks the 76th anniversary of the Southwest Athletic Conference which was first organized in 1914 to address the special needs of the region's larger colleges in regards to intercollegiate athletic competition.

The need for higher academic standards for student-athletes and ethical standards for the colleges were the guidelines as representatives from seven colleges first met May 6, 1914. They founded an organization that would "enlarge and more closely relate the athletic activities of the larger institutions of the states represented." The meeting was held at the Oriental Hotel in downtown Dallas.

It was at the invitation of L. Theo Bellmont, then athletic director of The University of Texas, that the representatives from seven institutions convened in Dallas for the founding. Present for the drafting of the constitution and bylaws were C. A. Gantt and S. R. Spencer, Baylor University; J. C. Snipes, Southwestern University; John Corbett, Oklahoma A&M College; Robert J. Potts, Texas A&M College; T. W. Atkinson and J. F. Broussard, Louisiana State University; D. K. Sadler and R. J. Nelson, University of Arkansas; Dr. W. T. Mather and Bellmont, The University of Texas.

The founding fathers met for a second time at the Rice Hotel in Houston on December 8, 1914, and completed the organization. Representatives from the University of Oklahoma (Ben Owen) and Rice Institute (W. W. Watkin) were present for this meeting and their institutions became charter members along with Arkansas, Baylor, Southwestern, Oklahoma A&M, Texas A&M, and Texas. Rice was accepted provisionally.

Thus came into existence the Southwest Intercollegiate Athletic Conference, which two years later (May, 1916) was to be shortened to Southwest Athletic Conference. The league encompassed representatives of only three of the five states that were included in the original planning. LSU withdrew at the organizational meeting, while the University of Mississippi failed to follow through on early indications of interest.

Composed of eight members at the outset, the Conference functioned with as few as six (1916 and 1917), had eight members in 1920, and then had seven members for 30 years (1926-55). The admission of Texas Tech in 1956 brought the membership to eight again and the admission of the University of Houston in May, 1971 set it at the all-time high of nine.

Southwestern, Oklahoma and Phillips withdrew after brief periods and Oklahoma A&M took leave after a decade of membership. SMU joined in 1918 and TCU in 1923, last additions before Texas Tech's and Houston's admission.

1989 in Review

Reggie Howard should provide the Bears with some big plays from his defensive tackle position.

1989 Game-By-Game

Game No. 1 Oklahoma 33, Baylor 7

September 9, 1989 at Norman, OK (74,600)

Oklahoma used a fierce rushing attack to score early and often in a 33-7 win over Baylor at Owen Field.

The Sooners, led by tailback Mike Gaddis' 92 yards, gained 338 yards rushing in the game to build a 28-0 halftime lead. The visitors, who could gain only 56 yards rushing on 31 attempts, were never in the game and could only muster a third quarter score on a two-yard pass from Brad Goebel to Alonzo Pierce that cut Oklahoma's lead to 31-7.

Oklahoma had no use for the passing attack, as they attempted only two passes against the Bears, completing none. All 16 Oklahoma first downs resulted from a rushing attempt as the Sooners averaged 4.4 yards per rush.

Forced to pass due to their inability to move the ball on the ground, Baylor completed 16 of 31 passes for 150 yards. However, Goebel was intercepted twice and the Bears had only one completion (to fullback Jeffery Murray) over 18 yards.

Baylor is now winless against Oklahoma in five encounters.

Game No. 2 Georgia 15, Baylor 3

September 16, 1989 at Athens, GA (82,007)

An opportunistic Georgia Bulldog team took advantage of three Baylor mistakes to score 15 unanswered points in a 15-3 win over the Bears at Sanford Stadium. The Baylor-Georgia game was the first for new Georgia head coach Ray Goff.

Baylor held a 314-263 edge in total yardage, but two intercepted passes by the Bears' Brad Goebel and one fumble kept the Bears out of the end zone all afternoon.

With the hosts leading 6-3 late in the second quarter, Georgia took control of the game with a 61-yard drive in their final possession of the second quarter. The big play on the five-play drive was a 46-yard pass reception from quarterback Greg Talley to flanker Arthur Marshall that moved the ball to the Baylor four-yard line. From there, Talley scored on a run and the momentum of the game heavily favored the Bulldogs.

In addition to the interceptions and the fumble, Baylor's offensive effort was hurt by 11 penalties resulting in 72 yards of losses. Georgia, meanwhile, had no interceptions or fumbles lost and was penalized only three times for 15 yards.

Other than the drive that resulted in a 32-yard Jeff Ireland field goal in the second quarter, the closest the Bears could get to the Georgia goal line was the Bulldog 27, but three ensuing penalties eventually led to a Pete Rutter punt.

With the win, Georgia increases its all-time advantage over Baylor to 4-0.

Game No. 3 Baylor 46, Kansas 3

September 23, 1989 at Waco (26,765)

A thorough domination took place in the football game between Baylor and Kansas with the Bears proving victorious 46-3.

Baylor led in every offensive category, including a 467-129 edge in total offense.

Also leading to the rout were four Jayhawk miscues and a kick blocked by Bear linebacker James Francis while the hosts had only one interception by reserve quarterback Ed Lovell.

Averaging 2.3 yards per offensive snap, Kansas could only scratch the scoreboard with a 24-yard field goal by Brad Fleeman in the second quarter. That cut the Baylor lead to 11-3. But the Bears scored the final 35 points in the game to put the outcome of the game on ice.

Eleven different Bears rushed the ball, led by Eldwin Raphel's 138 yards on 22 carries.

With his blocked punt in the first quarter that gave Baylor a quick 2-0 lead, James Francis started a season-long tradition of scoring plays by the Baylor defense. Mike Welch later put the Bears up 32-3 in the third quarter with a 25-yard return of an interception.

Game No. 4 Baylor 29, Texas Tech 15

September 30, 1989 at Waco (38,785)

Brad Goebel's passing and three Jeff Ireland field goals fueled Baylor to a 29-15 win over Texas Tech in the 1989 Southwest Conference opener for both teams.

The game featured Baylor's best offensive effort of the 1989 campaign against a Tech team that would later win the All-American Bowl game over Duke.

Goebel threw for 347 yards, including 75- and 65-yard touchdown passes to Greg Anderson and Steve Stutsman. The 347 yards passing was Goebel's best in his Baylor career as the Cuero product completed 16 of 26 attempts. For his efforts, Goebel was named the SWC's Offensive Player of the Week. Linebacker Gary Joe Kinne received the same award for the defensive side of the ball as he recorded 17 tackles.

A James Francis fumble recovery on Tech's opening possession of the game turned things in Baylor's favor. Tech had set up shop on the Baylor seven-yard line after David McFarland intercepted a Goebel pass on the Bears' opening possession and returned it 33 yards to the Bear seven. However, Anthony Lynn carried the ball on the next snap and fumbled, and Francis was there to pick up the loose pigskin.

Baylor proceeded to set the tempo of the game with a season-long 94-yard scoring drive that was capped by Eldwin Raphel's 12-yard scoring romp.

Tech tied the score at 7 at the end of the first quarter on a 6-yard run by James Gray. Baylor, however, responded with a 16-point second quarter while holding the visitors scoreless to take a 23-7 halftime lead.

Game No. 5 Houston 66, Baylor 10

October 7, 1989 at Houston, TX (31,433)

Baylor's two-game winning streak was abruptly and crudely snapped by the Houston Cougars as the Andre Ware-led Cougar attack accumulated 613 total yards in a 66-10 win over the Bears.

After a defensive struggle in the first quarter that saw Houston take a 3-0 lead, Baylor offensive mistakes consistently put the Bear defense in tough situations, and the result was 33 second-quarter Cougar points as the game quickly got out of hand. The Baylor offense could only scratch 96 yards rushing, 211 total yards and made seven mistakes (three fumbles and four interceptions).

The Baylor defense, which was nationally ranked in pass defense going into the Houston game and would finish the year as the SWC's top rank overall unit, had its worse showing of the year. Ware, who eventually won the Heisman Trophy, burned the Baylor defense for 33 of 53 completed passes for 514 yards and six touchdowns. The Cougars offense also featured the big play as they scored from 51, 46, 41, 36 and 20 yards out. Emmanuel Hazard caught 13 passes for 218 yards and five touchdown passes.

A sloppy game, Baylor was penalized 10 times for 99 yards, and the Cougars 15 times for 155 yards. Considering the final score, time of possession was close, with the Bears clocked at 29:55 and Houston 30:05.

Game No. 6 Baylor 49, Southern Methodist 3

October 14, 1989 at Dallas, TX (21,434)

Baylor's return to historic Ownby Stadium proved to be a satisfying one as the Bears whipped outmanned SMU 49-3.

After SMU ran off three plays on the game's opening possession, a 48-yard punt return by Baylor's Greg Anderson set the Baylor offense up at the SMU two-yard line, where the visitors scored on a Lincoln Coleman two-yard burst two minutes into the game. Anderson's return set the tone for the game, and the outcome was never in doubt as the Bears scored the game's first 20 points.

Eight different Baylor players rushed the ball and nine caught passes as the Bears accumulated 568 yards of total offense. In addition to dominating the line of scrimmage, the Baylor offense featured the big plays as Baylor collected pass plays of 66 yards to Reggie Miller, 39 yards to Steve Stutsman, 23 yards to Eric Gilstrap and 22 yards to David Frost.

SMU depended on the pass all day long against the Baylor defense as the Mustangs rushed the ball 20 times for only two yards. SMU was able to complete 25 of 43 passes for 203 yards against the Baylor secondary, but the Bears did claim five quarterback sacks and a Malcolm Frank interception.

Baylor's 80 offensive plays, 568 total yards and 27 first downs against the Mustangs were all season-best totals.

Game No. 7 Texas A&M 14, Baylor 11

October 21, 1989 at Waco (45,565)

In one of Baylor's most heartbreaking losses, Texas A&M scored 14 fourth-quarter points to grab a 14-11 win over the Bears at Floyd Casey Stadium.

Baylor had control of the game's tempo through most of the game, taking a 8-0 lead into the fourth quarter. For the game, Baylor led in first downs 17-11, time of possession 36:54 to 23:06, and total yards 201-174.

The game turned around with about nine minutes left and Baylor holding that 8-0 lead. After a stalled Baylor drive, Pete Rutter connected on a 78-yard punt that rolled into the end zone. Baylor, however, was called for clipping on the punt attempt. Rutter bobbled the ensuing snap from center and the Aggies recovered the ball in the end zone for a touchdown. A&M was suddenly in the game.

After Jeff Ireland put Baylor ahead 11-6 with 4:48 left, Aggie quarterback Lance Pavlas took control of the game. Pavlas, known for his passing ability, oddly hurt the Bears in A&M's game-winning drive with his running ability. Texas A&M drove 66 yards for the win, and Pavlas gained 46 yards of it on the ground, including the final yard that gave A&M the win with one minute left.

The outcome overshadowed James Francis' performance. Francis had 16 tackles, two behind the line of scrimmage, one blocked punt, one fumble recovery and one pass broken up. The SWC named Francis their Defensive Player of the Week for his effort vs. the Aggies.

Game No. 8 Baylor 27, Texas Christian 9

October 28, 1989 at Waco (35,713)

James Francis continued his brand of play that eventually earned him consensus All-America honors as Baylor defeated TCU 27-9 in the annual Homecoming game.

Francis' 50-yard interception return in the third quarter broke the Frogs' spirit as the score gave Baylor a 24-3 lead late in the third stanza. For the day, Francis had ten tackles, two kicks blocked and two pass interceptions. For the second consecutive week, Francis earned SWC Defensive Player of the Week honors.

The Baylor defense forced TCU's Triple Shoot offense into six turnovers, including five interceptions. Because of the turnovers and the ability of the Baylor defense to score points, the Bears overcame a 366-231 TCU advantage in total yardage.

Malcolm Frank's 32-yard interception return in the second quarter gave Baylor a 9-0 halftime lead. Before Francis' heroics, Lincoln Coleman had given the hosts a 17-3 lead with 4:43 left in the third quarter.

If TCU had eliminated their turnovers, the outcome of the game could have been different. TCU held a 23-12 lead in first downs and were also on top in time of possession (31:49 to 28:11).

Game No. 9 Arkansas 19, Baylor 10

November 11, 1989 at Fayetteville, AR (51,352)

Arkansas limited Baylor to 28 yards rushing and no second-half points to take a 19-10 win over Baylor in a game broadcast live nationally by ESPN.

The Razorbacks' defense hogtied the Baylor offense, limiting the Bears to nine first downs, only 45 offensive snaps and 199 total yards. The time of possession revealed Arkansas' dominance on the game as the Porkers held the ball 42 minutes compared to Baylor's 18 minutes.

Also contributing greatly to the final outcome was Arkansas' ability to play mistake-free football while Baylor had two passes intercepted.

Jeff Ireland's 41-yard field goal with four seconds left in the second quarter tied the score at 10 and gave Baylor momentum heading into the locker room at halftime. But the Bears could not carry that momentum over to the second-half. The Bears' deepest penetration in the game's final 20 minutes was the Arkansas 37, but a 55-yard Ireland field goal attempt was unsuccessful and the Razorbacks had their second-half shutout.

Baylor was only three of 11 in third down conversions for the game while Arkansas was 11 of 20.

Game No. 11 Baylor 50, Texas 7

November 25, 1989 at Austin, TX (49,081)

Safety Robert Blackmon achieved a defensive player's dream game as Baylor stunned Texas 50-7 at Memorial Stadium.

Blackmon was all over the field as the Van Vleck senior playing in his last college game recorded five tackles and three interceptions. Blackmon returned two of his swipes for touchdowns, including one that covered 20 yards and provided Baylor with a quick 10-0 lead with 9:36 left in the first quarter.

Baylor's offensive numbers did not dictate a 50-point scoring day, as the Bears accumulated 252 total yards compared to Texas' 208. But the Baylor defense provided their offensive teammates great field position throughout most of the afternoon. Baylor's scoring drives covered 22, eight, 66, 40, four, five and 58 yards.

The visitors held a 43-0 lead before Texas could scratch the scoreboard. After an Eric Gilstrap fumble put Texas in business on the Baylor two-yard line, Adrian Walker scored from a yard out to give the Longhorns their only touchdown with 13:06 left in the game.

Offensive lineman Monte Jones is expected to lead an improved Baylor rushing attack in 1990.

Baylor Traditions

Immortal Ten

On January 22, 1927, at Round Rock, Texas, one of America's first athletic tragedies occurred. Coach Ralph Wolf was taking his first Baylor basketball team to the University of Texas when a speeding train from the I & GA Railroad Company rammed the side of the bus blinded by stormy weather at a crossing near the center of Round Rock. Ten of the 21 persons in the Baylor party were killed.

Each year before Baylor Homecoming, the freshman class hears the epic of the "Immortal Ten" and the hero, James Clyde "Abe" Kelly. Captain-elect of the 1927 football team, Kelly saw the train seconds before impact and pushed his roommate, Weir Washan, out of the bus window. Kelly died saving the life of his best friend.

Others who died with Kelly were William Winchester, W. E. Murray, Merle Dudley, Sam Dillow, Jack Castellau, L. R. "Ivey" Foster, Bob Hailey, R. L. Hannah and James Walker.

Wesley Bradshaw, who remains in third place in Baylor football career scoring records, was seriously hurt. Gordon Barry, Joe Potter, Edgar Gooch, C. S. Bean, Keifer Stricklan (All-SWC), John Kane, Dave Cheavens (former Baylor journalism department chairman) and Coach Wolf were slightly injured. Washan and Louis Slade were unhurt.

As a result of this tragedy, the first highway overpass in Texas was constructed at Round Rock.

Bear Nickname

Although founded in 1845, in 1914 Baylor intercollegiate athletic teams were still without an official nickname. In December of 1914, President Samuel Palmer

Brooks held a vote of the student body and Bears narrowly defeated "Buffaloes." Other nicknames nominated were "Antelopes," "Frogs" and "Ferrets."

Bobby Jones Award

Prior to each Homecoming game, the Bobby Jones Award is presented to the senior player who provided the best leadership on and off the field during the week of preparation for the Homecoming game.

Bobby Jones, the Baylor quarterback from 1954-56 who helped defeat Tennessee 13-7 in the 1957 Sugar Bowl, was killed in an automobile-train wreck while a member of the Tennessee coaching staff.

The coaching staff votes on the recipient of this award which was established after Jones' death by Mrs. Rosemary Jones.

Bear Mascot Story

Although "Bears" became Baylor's official nickname in 1914, it wasn't until the 1920s that a real bear mascot came to the University. The troops of the 107th Engineers, a unit of the 32nd Infantry Division stationed in Waco, gave the first live bear mascot to Baylor.

Ted, the division's bear mascot, first appeared at a Baylor-Texas A&M football game. When the unit received orders to move on, the bear was left behind in the hands of the Baylor Athletic Department.

Probably the best-known mascot has been Joe College who came to Baylor after former student Bill Boyd bought the bear from a zoo operating at the Cotton Palace in Waco. Baylor President Pat Neff allowed

Boyd to take care of the bear in exchange for free tuition.

The current bear mascots appearing at games come from Bear Country USA, a drive-through wildlife park in South Dakota. They are rotated about every two years due to handling difficulties after the age of two and one-half.

In addition to the cubs which go to games, a larger, older bear is kept at the Hudson Bear Plaza on campus. The honor of training and caring for the bears goes to the Baylor Chamber of Commerce, a men's campus service organization.

Most bears are North American black bears, a species that adapts well to humans.

"Sic 'Em Bears" and the "Bear Claw"

In 1960, yell leader Bobby Schrade, currently Baylor's Director of School Relations, introduced the "Bear Claw" hand signal and "Sic 'Em Bears" yell.

The initial student body and faculty reaction to the yell and coinciding hand signal made by slightly curving all five fingers inward to form a bear claw was mixed.

The issue was a hot topic of debate, and their use was sporadic throughout the 60s until Coach Teaff arrived in 1972. Teaff initiated a new era of Baylor football, and the "Bear Claw" and "Sic 'Em Bears" yell came to symbolize pride in Baylor football.

In addition to being used during the yell, the "Bear Claw" is held up during the playing of Baylor's school song, "That Good Old Baylor Line." Football players traditionally hold up their helmets during the playing of the school song.

Ex Tex Pep Rally

Looking for an emotional edge for his players prior to the University of Texas game, former head coach John Bridgers started the Hex Tex Pep rally in 1960.

The highlight of the pep rally, which was first held in Minglewood Bowl but has since been moved to Floyd Casey Stadium, is the lighting of candles that are formed in the stands in the shape of an upside-down Longhorn. Current head coach Grant Teaff changed the name of the rally in 1986 because he felt the Bears no longer need to invoke the powers of a hex to beat the Longhorns.

The "Nuggs"

Under the motto of "The Few, The Proud, The Nuggs," Baylor's all-important scout teamers, who imitate opponents' plays for the starting units, have molded themselves into one of the more distinctive groups on campus.

The name originated in the mid-70s when scout teamers were outfitted in garish gold-colored jerseys. The reason for the distinctive togs is hotly debated, but in all likelihood they were worn near the end of the season when normal practice jerseys were in short supply.

At any rate the devoted group, who seldom saw game action, took pride in their uniforms and called themselves the "Golden Nuggets," later shortened to "Nuggs."

To be called a "Nugg" means that one will never see the light of day in an actual game, but one is giving every ounce of one's ability to help the team win by preparing the starting units.

"Nuggs" proudly wear their own T-shirts and have even printed their own media guide. Each season the top scout teamers receive the "Golden Nugget Awards."

Kyle Woods' Inspirational Speech

The football career of Baylor defensive back Kyle Woods came to a screeching halt before the 1979 season when Woods, going through a routine tackling drill, suffered a broken neck which left him paralyzed.

Showing the same determination in his rehabilitation program that he had as a football player, it took only a year for his teammates to find out just how determined Woods was.

The 1980 Baylor Bears started the season with a 7-0 record and were ranked sixth in the nation. Then came a shocking upset at home to San Jose State, a 21-point underdog.

Nobody knew how the Bears would react the next week in the homecoming game against nationally-ranked Arkansas. Nobody knew except Woods, who planned to visit his old teammates before the game.

After the Bears finished their pre-game warmups, Coach Grant Teaff gathered the team in the locker room and gave Woods the chance to speak.

Woods, speaking from his wheelchair, told his teammates of the pain and problems involved in his rehabilitation. But through it all, he said, he had learned one thing: "No matter what happens to you, no matter how bad things might seem, you have to do one thing: you have to turn a setback into a comeback!"

With that Woods showed them what kind of comeback he was making. Grasping the arms of his wheelchair, he locked his arms to raise his body a few inches. Then, with the help of his brother, he stood, wobbly but erect. What followed brought shocked silence, then tears and then shouts from his teammates.

Woods took a short, shuffling step.

The inspired Bears went on to beat the highly regarded Razorbacks 42-15 and went on to finish with a 10-1 record, the Southwest Conference championship, and a Cotton Bowl berth.

Homecoming Parade

One of the highlights of the Baylor Homecoming celebration each year is the Homecoming Parade, believed to be the largest and oldest in the nation. The first parade was held in 1909 and featured horse-drawn carts decorated with strips of paper. Gradually the floats became the main feature of the parade, and by the mid-1930s most organizations had a Homecoming Queen nominee riding atop their floats.

Built by school clubs, approximately 23 floats are judged in categories according to the amount of money spent to build and decorate them,

Class A, B, or C. Since 1939, the Baylor Chamber of Commerce has planned, organized, and supervised all operations relating to the parade, floats, and queen selection.

About 35,000 people annually line the streets to view the parade, with another 115,000 watching on local television. Approximately 115-120 parade entries including floats, cars carrying distinguished guests, and marching bands, participate in the parade which travels about two miles through Waco to the Baylor campus.

Baylor Line

The Baylor Line is a spirit organization comprised of freshmen men. Wearing matching green and gold jerseys and sitting in a block on the 40-yard line enables them to cheer for the Baylor Bears from the stands. The Line members encircle the football field prior to each game's start demonstrating their support for the Bears. In addition the group, organized by the Baylor Chamber of Commerce, carry the alumni national flags in the Homecoming Parade.

Golden Wave Marching Band

In 1902, 17 students pooled their talents to become the Baylor Cadet Band. The next year membership increased to 28, directed by Charles W. Parker, under the auspices of the military department. This band was a part of Baylor's ROTC unit until the end of World War I when the military division was dissolved and the organization became known as the Baylor Bear Band.

In 1929 Everett McCracken was appointed director, and he initiated a new era of development for the Bear Band. A successful 10-day tour through several Texas towns was made in uniforms colored in gold. Critics spoke of the band as making "a golden wave through Texas." From that time, the band has been known as the Baylor University Golden Wave Marching Band.

In the 1950s and the 1960s, the band gained national prominence and was featured in the Orange, the Sugar, the Gator, and the Bluebonnet Bowls under still active alumni, Dr. Donald I. Moore.

This year the Golden Wave, under the direction of Mike Haithcock for the ninth year, is marching 250 members and features world champion twirler Gina Adams.

BAYLOR®
BAYLOR UNIVERSITY

“That Good Old Baylor Line”

The alma mater of Baylor has been the rallying call to the old school's thousands of students, ex-students and friends since shortly after the turn of the 20th century.

Its present form, however, is altogether different from the original one. In fact, its title is the only thing that has remained intact through three score and 10 years of usage.

The now famous title was conceived in 1907 when a group of Baylor men, led by William B. Todd, borrowed a tune from a Broadway musical hit of 1902, a sprightly waltz number called “In the Good Old Summertime.”

The text of that first pep-generating ditty embodies a dire threat to all gridiron foes, notably those of a sister institution of that time also located in Waco—the forerunner of Texas Christian University, then called Add-Ran College. Rivalry between the two student bodies was intense, hence, the Baylor men's threat to send their opponents home “done up in turpentine” after an encounter with formidable Baylor “line.”

The words used in that first version have long been abandoned. New words were written in 1931 by Enid Eastland Markham, a 1923 Baylor graduate.

Baylor Yell Leaders

Baylor athletic events had no organized spirit personnel until the first set of all-male yell leaders was elected in 1920. A student vote to allow female yell leaders came up in 1962 but narrowly failed.

Another vote failed in 1963. Finally, in 1967 students voted to allow coeds to join the team, and they first appeared during the 1968 football season.

Congressional Medals of Honor

Baylor University is believed to be the only school in America to have two former athletes go on to win the Congressional Medal of Honor. Both men, Jack Lummus and John (Killer) Kane, won the nation's highest military honor for heroics in World War II.

Lummus played football, basketball and baseball for the Bears from 1938 through 1941. He was an All-Southwest Conference center fielder before signing with the New York Giants of the National Football League.

After one year of pro football, Lummus joined the Marines and was a platoon leader in the initial days of fighting at Iwo Jima. While leading a charge on enemy positions, Lummus stepped on a land mine and lost both legs. Despite the heavy bleeding that resulted he led his platoon to knock out several pockets of Japanese fire, a vital part of the U.S. victory.

Lummus died of his wounds shortly after the battle.

President Harry S. Truman cited Lummus by saying, "By his outstanding valor, skilled tactics and tenacious perseverance in the face of overwhelming odds, First Lieutenant Lummus had inspired his stouthearted Marines to continue the relentless drive northward, thereby contributing materially to the success of his company's mission."

Kane played football and basketball at Baylor and was a member of the ill-fated 1927 basketball team that lost ten of its members in a bus-train wreck. Kane was one of 12 survivors.

Kane joined the Army Air Corps in 1932 and soon became a bomber commander of legendary proportions. It was said he was the best pilot and toughest commander in the Air Corps. It was often debated who feared him more—the Germans or his own men.

On August 1, 1943, Kane led what at the time was the deadliest air battle in history—a low-level, long-range raid on Hitler's oil-refining complex in Ploesti, Rumania. The site produced a major part of the Axis' fuel and was one of the most heavily guarded locations in history.

The Air Corps' mission was to fly B-24 Liberator bombers 1,350 miles at treetop level under the range of enemy radar. It was a suicide mission despite some of the most heroic flying ever done. It is remembered as the worst catastrophe in the history of the Army Air Corps.

Of the 166 planes that departed on the mission, 73 failed to return. Kane flew for over 14 hours before returning on two of four engines.

Five Medals of Honor were awarded to pilots, the most ever from a single military operation. Only Kane and one other were alive to receive theirs.

From 1977-80 the Davey O'Brien Memorial Trophy was presented to the outstanding football player in the Southwest portion of the United States. In 1981 the name was changed to the Davey O'Brien

Barton "Botchey" Koch

First Consensus All-American in Southwest Conference History

The Southwest Conference is now regarded as one of the premier football leagues in the nation, but back in 1930 the idea of a player of All-American status coming from the SWC seemed preposterous—until Botchey Koch came along.

Koch played guard at a stocky 5-10 and 200 pounds and left an indelible impression on everybody who saw him play.

Since no game films exist from his day, testimony of those who witnessed him personally attest to his greatness.

"He was the greatest athlete I ever coached," said former Baylor coach and athletic director Bill Henderson, a veteran of over 40 years in college athletics.

The legendary D. X. Bible put Koch on the West squad of the East-West Shrine Game. After seeing Koch play against the best in the country, Bible said, "He's the best guard I ever saw."

The San Francisco Chronicle's report of the game said, "There were a lot of great linemen in the game, but Koch was easily the best. A steam roller could not get over him." Koch was voted the game's MVP.

Former SWC football referee Pete Cawthon called him "an All-American all the way, both ways. Don't ever expect to see another one as good."

Amos Alonzo Stagg called Koch "one of the great ones." "Football brilliance," said Knute Rockne, "He's far and away the best guard I ever saw play."

Paul Crume, longtime Dallas Morning News columnist, wrote upon Koch's death in 1964, "after reviewing my memories of Botchey Koch, I doubt that there ever was a better college lineman."

Koch is a member of the Baylor Hall of Fame, the Texas Sports Hall of Fame, the Baylor All-Decade team of the 20s, the College Football Foundation Hall of Fame, the Southwest Conference 50-year All-Star Team and the All-Time All-American team picked by Grantland Rice, perhaps the greatest sportswriter who ever lived, and Harry Stuhldreher, one of Notre Dame's famed four horsemen and former head coach at Wisconsin.

Former Waco Tribune-Herald sports editor Jinx Tucker wrote, "He (Koch) has been accorded more national honor than any player a college or university in the state of Texas has produced, and he is deserving of that honor for he is the greatest guard the Lone Star State has ever seen, and perhaps the greatest the nation has ever known."

The Mike Singletary Award

The Mike Singletary Award is presented annually to the senior football player who has contributed the most to the team and brought honor and recognition to the University through his actions on and off the field. The award is voted on by the student body.

“The Worm Story”

In 1978 the Baylor football team was suffering through a disappointing 2-8 campaign, having lost the first five games by a combined total of 21 points. The season was about to end against nationally ranked Texas, and Grant Teaff knew his team had to have a mental edge.

Thus was born the famous “Worm Story.” Just before the team returned to the field for the opening kickoff, Teaff told the Bears a story about two Eskimo fishermen who were out icefishing. The old veteran fisherman caught fish right and left, but the younger newcomer caught none, even though they used the same equipment and techniques.

After several hours of shivering out on the ice with no fish to show for it, the young angler asked the wiser pro what his secret was. The old man then opened his mouth revealing a wad of live worms and said,

“You have to keep your worms warm!”

With that Teaff produced a live night-crawler he had purchased at a bait store just before the game. As players’ eyes widened he held it up and said, “Today men, I’m going to keep the worms warm!” He then dropped the creepy crawler in his mouth, chewed a few times and swallowed.

The team went wild, almost tearing the locker room door off its hinges trying to get back onto the field.

Mickey Elam, a converted running back playing quarterback, shocked the heavily favored Longhorns and the Bears won 38-14. That score was the largest margin of victory by Baylor over Texas until 1989’s 50-7 win. Teaff stressed later that using the worm was simply a psychological device to allow his players to relax and play up to their potential.

National Football Foundation Hall of Fame Members

BARTON “BOTCHEY” KOCH—Botchey Koch was considered by every football expert to be the greatest lineman of his era. In his senior season of 1930 he made a huge breakthrough for the Southwest Conference by becoming the league’s first consensus All-American. He was elected to the Hall of Fame in 1974.

BILL GLASS—Bill Glass was everybody’s All-American guard on one of Baylor’s greatest teams. His senior season, 1956, he led the Bears to a 9-2 record and Sugar Bowl victory over the previously undefeated Tennessee Volunteers. He and Texas A&M’s Jack Pardee, now head coach of the Houston Oilers, were voted Houston Post SWC Most Valuable Players that year. He was inducted into the Hall of Fame in 1985.

JIM RAY SMITH—Jim Ray Smith won All-American honors from his tackle spot for the Bears in 1953 and ’54. His senior year the Bears went 7-4 and played Auburn in the Gator Bowl. Smith has remained active in college football, having served as president of the Cotton Bowl Athletic Association. He was inducted into the Hall of Fame in 1987.

MORLEY JENNINGS—Morley Jennings spent 15 seasons as the Bears’ head coach, compiling a record of 82-60-6 from 1926-40. Nine of Jennings’ BU teams had winning seasons, including the 1935 squad which went 8-3. From 1937-39 his Bears went 21-5-1. Among the great players he coached were Botchey Koch, Sam Boyd, Billy Patterson and Jack Russell. He was inducted into the Hall of Fame in 1973.

Floyd Casey Stadium History

As evidenced by the construction project in the north end zone, Baylor's Floyd Casey Stadium is undergoing a renovation that will put it on an even level with some of the best athletic facilities in the country.

Stadium renovations, which include a new All-Pro Turf playing surface, expanded and improved restrooms, new concession stands and a new pressbox elevator, will be ready for the 1990 season.

The north end zone athletic complex will include departmental offices for all sports, locker rooms, weight rooms, training rooms, meeting rooms, a video studio, and Bear Club facilities. Construction is scheduled for completion in the spring of 1991.

The makeover comes in the stadium's 41st year of service to Baylor. After 39 years of being called Baylor Stadium, 1989 was the facility's first full season under the new name of Floyd Casey Stadium.

The name change officially took place during halftime ceremonies of the 1988 Homecoming game with Arkansas when it was announced that longtime University supporter and trustee Carl B. Casey of Dallas and his wife, Thelma, contributed $5 million to the stadium renovation project in honor of his father Floyd Casey.

The generous Casey donation was part of an $8 million campaign.

After World War II the Baylor Stadium Corporation was formed and began a campaign to build a stadium for the University. The corporation launched a bond sales program and was able to raise $1.5 million for construction costs. The last bonds were retired in 1980. The Bears moved to Baylor Stadium in 1950.

The first game played in the 48,500-seat stadium was September 30, 1950, a 34-7 Baylor victory over the Houston Cougars, then an independent team. The initial Southwest Conference game was November 4, 1950, a 27-20 win over Texas A&M. The largest crowd to see the Bears play at home was the 1974 A&M game when 51,200 fans jammed the stadium to watch the Aggies shut out the SWC champion Bears, 20-0.

Many improvements and additions have been made to the stadium over the years. Until 1972 the Bears played on natural grass, but with the hiring of head coach Grant Teaff the first AstroTurf surface was installed in 1972. A second AstroTurf surface was added in the summer of 1980.

During the 1970s, the beautiful and comfortable Lettermen's Lounge was built on the stadium's west side. Also, an expanded Bear Club Room was added. Both projects were funded by the respective groups' members.

An eight-year project to change from worn wooden to modern aluminum bleachers was finished in 1981.

Prior to the building of Baylor Stadium in 1950, several playing sites were employed by the Bears. The first Bear football squad was formed in 1899, but no records are available to prove where the team played. Old newspaper clippings and yearbook articles only indicate the first three seasons were played on an extremely rough field close to the school.

From 1902 to 1925, with the exception of 1906 when football was banned on campus because it was deemed too violent, the Bears played most of their games at Carroll Field, an on-campus facility. An unknown number of games were played at the old Cotton Palace during this period.

The Bears played at the Cotton Palace from 1926-29 before returning back to Carroll Field from 1930-35. The team moved off the main campus for good in 1936 when it began calling the newly built Waco Stadium home. Waco Stadium was renamed Municipal Stadium in 1942, and it was there BU played through 1949 except for a break from 1943-44 because of the war effort.

Through 88 years Baylor has compiled a record of 275-156-28 at its various home playing fields.

Although edged in the final statistics, coach Bob Woodruff's Baylor Bears won the first bowl appearance in the school's history by defeating Wake Forest 20-7 in the second annual Dixie Bowl.

Wake Forest, although gaining 277 total yards compared to Baylor's 212, fell behind 20-0 at halftime to the upstart Bears and could never seriously threaten the 6-3-2 victors.

Bear defender George Sims recorded the game's first turnover when he intercepted a Deacon pass in their first possession and returned it 52 yards to the Wake Forest eight-yard line.

Sammie Pierce, who averaged 13.1 yards a carry against the 6-3 Deacons, scored the first touchdown from a yard out and Jerry Mangrum scored from the same distance in the second quarter to give Baylor a 13-0 lead.

The Bears increased the margin to 20-0 off a 68-yard drive, highlighted by a Pierce 40-yard romp. Quarterback Ray Painter, who had attempted only seven passes during the regular season, passed the final 12 yards to Harold Riley for the score. Hank Dickerson added his second PAT for the day.

All-America quarterback Adrian Burk completed five passes for 69 yards, with two of the completions going to Riley. James Parker also hauled in a Burk aerial for 23 Baylor yards.

James Parker led the Baylor rushing attack with 43 yards on eight carries.

Pepper Rodgers kicked a 13-yard field goal with three minutes remaining to give Georgia Tech a 17-14 come-from-behind victory over Baylor in Miami's Orange Bowl contest.

Tech scored 10 fourth quarter points on Rodgers' effort and a Buck Martin touchdown reception, while holding Baylor scoreless to nip the 8-1-1 Bears.

Bear fullback Dick Parma scored the game's first touchdown from a yard out and C. O. Brocato added the PAT as Baylor led 7-0 in the first quarter.

After Tech knotted the score at 7, Baylor drove 63 yards, capped by Jerry Coody's four-yard scoring blast, to give the Bears a 14-7 halftime margin.

Coody was the team's leading ground gainer during the regular season, picking up 570 yards on 125 carries.

But coach Bobby Dodd's Tech squad used Rodgers and Martin's last quarter heroics to take their comeback win.

The Orange Bowl loss was Baylor's second of the 1951 season, the first coming at the hands of TCU 20-7.

Larry Isbell, who threw for 1,430 yards during the regular season, attempted 18 passes against Georgia Tech, completing eight for 93 yards. Parma was the contest's top ground gainer with 107 yards on 19 attempts.

All-America end Stanley Williams, who caught 37 regular season passes for six touchdowns, and Harold Riley each caught three Isbell passes. And defensive back Robert Reid, who established a school interception record with 11 regular season swipes, intercepted one pass from Tech quarterback Darrell Crawford.

Thirteenth-ranked Auburn scored five of the first six times they touched the football on their way to a 33-13 thrashing of Baylor in the 1955 Gator Bowl.

The Tigers, who established three Gator Bowl records and tied another in the rout, outgained Baylor 476 to 239 in total yardage.

Bear all-conference halfback Del Shofner fumbled the opening kickoff and the Tigers recovered on the Bear 27-yard line. Five plays later, Auburn scored the game's first touchdown and led 7-0.

Baylor tied the game by driving 63 yards in nine plays, the majority coming off a Billy Hooper pass to Charles Smith. Fullback Reuben Saage scored from a yard out and Smith kicked the conversion to tie the game at 7.

But before Baylor scored again, Auburn led 27-7.

Joe Childress, the game's leading yard gainer with 134 steps, scored his second touchdown of the game and Bob James added a 43-yard scoring jaunt to give Auburn a 21-7 halftime edge.

Tiger quarterback Bobby Freeman gave his squad a 27-7 lead on a six-yard romp.

All-America halfback L. G. (Long Gone) Dupre butted his way for a 38-yard scoring play to cut the lead to 27-13 midway through the third quarter. Dupre, the Bears' third leading rusher during the regular season behind Shofner and Allen Jones, finished his team's leading rusher against the Tigers with an amazing 69 yards.

Freeman completed the scoring with a four-yard fourth quarter pass to end Jimmy Long.

Hooper, an all-conference honoree, finished with nine completions in 15 attempts for 112 yards, with four of the aeriels going to Smith.

Dupre returned three Auburn kickoffs for 85 yards as the Bears finished 7-4 for the season. Shug Jordon was the winning Auburn coach while George Sauer saw his Bears go down to defeat.

Reuben Saage recovered Tennessee All-America halfback Johnny Majors' fumble of a Del Shofner punt and Baylor then drove 15 yards for the winning touchdown in the Bears' 13-7 upset win over the undefeated Volunteers in the 23rd annual Sugar Bowl.

Bear quarterback Buddy Humphrey scored the winning touchdown on a one-yard sneak and Don Berry added the conversion for the 9-2 Bears of coach Sam Boyd.

Baylor scored first, despite being a one-touchdown underdog, when quarterback Bobby Jones threw a 12-yard scoring strike to Jerry Marcontel in the second quarter.

But Majors, who averaged 5.1 yards per rush, completed better than 60 percent of his passes and punted for a 42.3 yard average during the regular season, gave the Volunteers the lead in the third quarter by reaching pay dirt from a yard out. Sammy Burklow added the PAT and Tennessee led 7-6.

After the Volunteers held Baylor on their first possession of the fourth quarter, Shofner punted to the Tennessee eight. Majors returned the kick seven yards before coughing up the pigskin and Saage was there to make the big play for Baylor.

The contest matched the Southeastern Conference champion Vols against Baylor, who suffered a 7-6 loss to Texas Christian and a 19-13 setback to Texas A&M during the regular season.

Tennessee and coach Bowden Wyatt swept through a 10-game schedule in which they conquered five teams that participated in bowl games New Year's 1956. Only seven points separated Baylor from an unbeaten record.

Baylor halfback Del Shofner, running behind an offensive line headed by all-America Bill Glass, finished with 88 yards rushing in 14 carries and also intercepted one Volunteer aerial. For his play, Shofner, who scored ten touchdowns during the regular season, was voted the game's outstanding player.

Bobby Peters contributed 60 yards rushing for Baylor while Saage added 39 steps. Bear quarterbacks Humphrey, Bobby Jones and Doyle Traylor could only complete three passes, all going to end Morcontell.

Peters added 54 yards in kickoff runbacks.

Coach John Bridgers' pro-modeled Spread-T Baylor offense could muster only two touchdowns against a swarming Florida defense as the Gators took a 13-12 decision in the 16th annual Gator Bowl.

On the Bears' first possession of the second quarter, a pitchout from quarterback Ronnie Stanley to all-American halfback Ronnie Bull was mishandled and Florida's Chet Collins recovered on the Baylor 20-yard line.

It took the Gators five plays to score and fullback Don Goodman plunged the final three for the tally. Bill Cash added the conversion and Florida led 7-0 with 8:42 remaining in the half.

Coach Ray Graves' squad extended their lead to 13-0 later in the same stanza when Gator defender Ronnie Slack recovered a Stanley fumble in the end zone for the quick six points.

Florida traveled 20 yards for their two scores while Baylor went 139 steps for the same results.

Down 13-0 in the fourth quarter, the Bears, who finished 8-3, put forth a furious surge that resulted in 12 points.

On the first play of the quarter, quarterback Bobby Ply threw 11 yards to Ronnie Goodwin for the score, ending a 71-yard, nine-play drive.

With 1:01 remaining, Ply, who threw for four touchdowns during the regular season, and Stanley put the Bears in position to score with three completed aerials. Bull, Baylor's leading rusher and scorer, went the final three steps for the score. However, the two-point try from Ply to Goodwin was juggled and dropped and the Gators had their hard-earned victory.

Ply established a new Gator Bowl record with 13 completions and teamed with Goodwin (seven receptions) for five.

Eight Utah State turnovers and outstanding performances by halfback Ronnie Bull and sophomore quarterback Don Trull led Baylor to a 24-9 victory over Utah State in the inaugural Gotham Bowl at the Polo Grounds.

Baylor recovered their first of five Utah fumbles and went 45 yards to score the first time it had the ball. Bull, who had 86 total yards and was voted the game's Most Valuable Player, scooted 15 yards for the initial Bear touchdown.

In the second quarter, Carl Choate kicked a 22-yard field goal for Baylor and Trull added the third score on a quarterback sneak covering two yards. Trull, who passed for 116 yards against the nation's number two defensive unit, connected with Ted Plumb for a 38-yard fourth quarter touchdown pass to end Baylor's scoring.

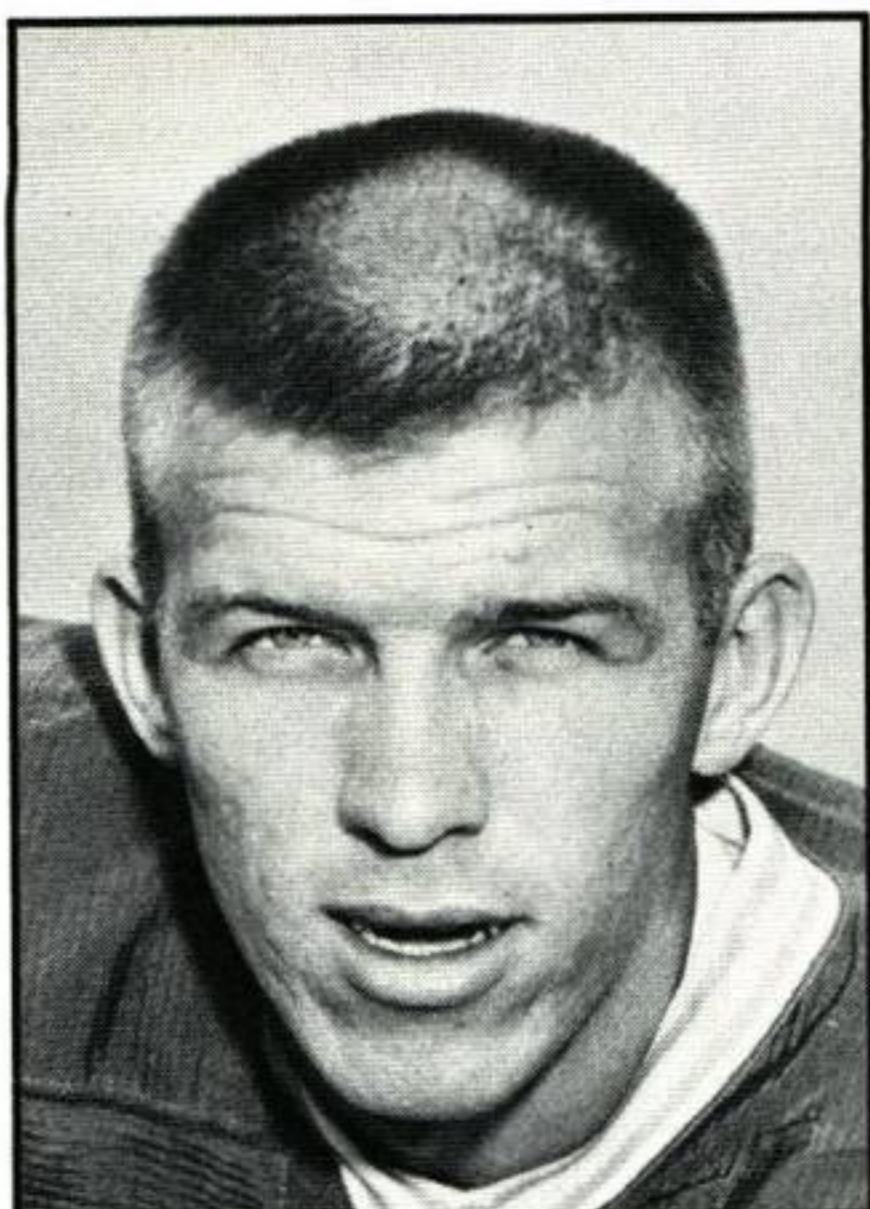

Choate was perfect in three extra point tries and Bull and Plumb combined for seven pass receptions.

Utah State, who entered the game with a 9-0-1 mark and a share of the Skyline Conference championship, was favored to beat coach John Bridgers' Bears, who finished with a 5-5 regular season slate.

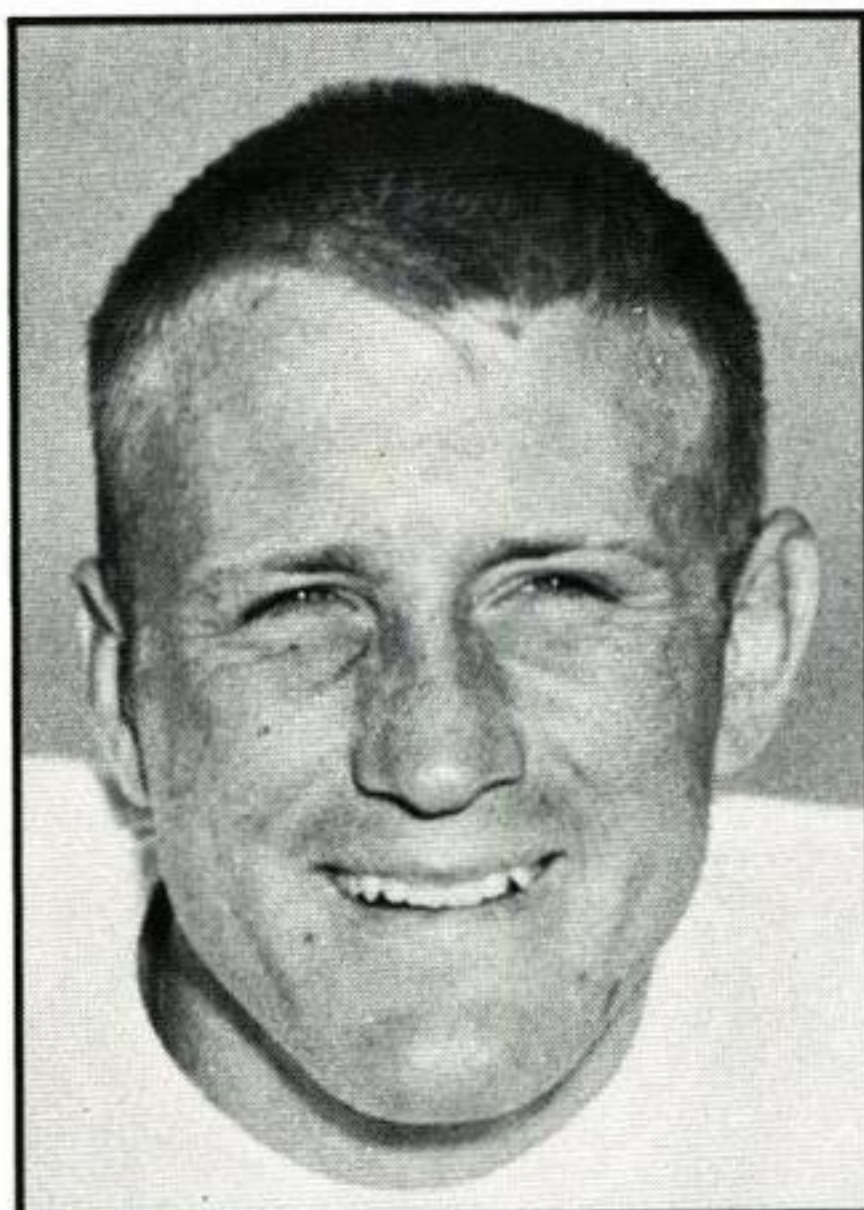

Coached by John Ralston, the Aggies featured three standouts who later starred in professional football: all-American tackle Merlin Olsen, quarterback Bill Munson and place-kicker Jim Turner.

Trull, voted the contest's most outstanding back, completed 26 of 37 passes for 255 yards and both Baylor touchdowns. End James Ingram, the game's most outstanding lineman, caught 11 of Trull's passes for 163 yards and seven- and 13-yard scoring strikes.

The Bears totally dominated their opponent, running 80 plays to LSU's 39 and racking up 394 total yards compared to the Tigers' 108.

Dalton Hoffman was the leading rusher for both teams, gaining 70 yards for Baylor, who ended the season 8-3. Tom Davies kicked both Baylor conversions.

The Tigers scored first, moving 43 yards in seven plays in the first quarter. Bill Soefker went the final eight steps for LSU and the Tigers led 7-0.

Baylor scored their first touchdown with 13:10 remaining as Trull hit Ingram for the seven-yard strike. The Bears moved 68 yards in ten plays for the score with Trull completing three passes.

On their next possession, the Bears drove 70 yards in 11 plays for the winning score. Four completed Trull attempts, two each to Lawrence Elkins and Ingram, highlighted the scoring march.

Baylor, who lost to Oregon State, Texas and Kentucky during the regular season, was led during the year by all-Americans Trull and Elkins, all-conference tackle Bobby Crenshaw and top rusher Hoffman.

Quarterback Tom Shuman established Cotton Bowl records in passing and total offense and flanker Jimmy Cefalo did likewise in receiving yards in Penn State's 41-20 decision over Baylor in the 1975 classic.

For the fifth time in their 10-victory 1974 season, the Lions came from behind to win. The victory spoiled Baylor's first appearance in the Dallas event, coming on the heels of the school's first Southwest Conference championship since 1924.

Baylor captured a 7-0 first quarter lead with Steve Beaird's four-yard blast. Bubba Hicks added the PAT conversion with 44 seconds remaining in the opening quarter.

A Matt Bahr 25-yard field goal closed the Bears' lead to 7-3 at intermission.

After the Nittany Lions took their first lead off Tom Donchez' one-yard blast, all-conference quarterback Neal Jeffrey put Baylor ahead 14-10 with a 35-yard scoring toss to end Ricky Thompson.

Three touchdowns, two by Cefalo and one by Shuman, and another Bahr field goal gave Penn State a 34-14 lead with 3:32 remaining. But the Bears, who finished 8-4 for the year, refused to fold and with 19 seconds left reserve quarterback Mark Jackson teamed with Thompson for an 11-yard touchdown.

On the ensuing kickoff, Hicks tried an onside kick only to watch Lion Joe Jackson scoop up the loose pigskin and race 50 yards for another Penn State score with two seconds left.

Baylor junior safety Ken Quesenberry, who had 12 tackles and one interception, was named the game's most Outstanding Defensive Player. Defensive back Tom Turnipseede added 11 tackles for the Bears and also recovered a Donchez fumble.

Senior Phillip Kent, one of eight Baylor all-conference selections playing in the game, returned three Nittany Lion kickoffs for 58 yards.

Thompson and tight end Sam Harper each caught three passes.

Quarterbacks Mike Brannan and Mickey Elam passed for 86 yards each to spark the Baylor Bears to a 24-18 upset win over the 17th-ranked Clemson Tigers in Atlanta's Fulton County Stadium.

The win vaulted coach Grant Teaff's Bears into 14th place on the Associated Press' final college football poll. The 8-4 Bruins were beaten during the regular season by Alabama, Houston, Arkansas and Texas, all members of the top ten.

With the Tigers leading 7-0, Brannan teamed with Bo Taylor on a three-yard touchdown toss to knot the score following Robert Bledsoe's extra point. The tally came eight plays after Baylor recorded its first of two blocked punts against Clemson kicker David Sims.

The Bears forged ahead 14-7 with 12:20 left in the second quarter when Brannan, voted the game's Most Valuable Offensive Player, connected with Robert Holt for a 24-yard scoring strike.

Baylor's final ten points resulted from a Bledsoe 29-yard field goal and a scoring pass from Elam to Raymond Cockrell that covered seven yards.

Senior defensive end Andrew Melontree, voted the game's Most Valuable Defensive Player, and linebackers Doak Field and all-America Mike Singletary led a Baylor defense that held an 8-3 Clemson offensive unit to 67 yards rushing.

Coach Paul "Bear" Bryant's Alabama Crimson Tide completely dominated Baylor in the 45th annual Cotton Bowl on their way to a 30-2 rout.

The Bears, ranked as high as sixth place in the nation during the regular season, closed an outstanding 10-2 and Southwest Conference championship campaign by dropping their second Cotton Bowl game in as many tries.

Alabama, who closed a 10-2 year with the win, took advantage of four Baylor fumbles and also intercepted three Bear passes to roll up a 339-158 total yardage advantage.

Three Peter Kim field goals and scoring runs by Major Ogilvie, Don Jacobs and Mark Nix put the Crimson Tide on the scoreboard while a Tommy Tabor first quarter safety made the only points the Bears could muster.

The league-leading Baylor offense netted 54 yards rushing, 18 by quarterback Jay Jeffrey. SWC champion runner Walter Abercrombie was held to nine yards on eight attempts by the Alabama defense.

Fullback Dennis Gentry was the leading pass receiver in the game, grabbing five receptions while Robert Holt added three others. Also, Gerald McNeil accumulated 100 yards in kickoff and punt returns for the Bears.

Tabor and all-conference linebacker Doak Field led the Baylor defensive charge with 15 stops each. All-America middle linebacker Mike Singletary, all-league safety Vann McElroy and linebacker Lester Ward each had 12 tackles for Baylor.

Baylor, following the New Year's Day defeat, dropped to 14th place in the final football poll.

Oklahoma State raced to a 21-0 lead in the first half before finally holding off Baylor, 24-14 in the 25th Annual Bluebonnet Bowl at the Astrodome.

Aided by a roughing-the-passer call and fine running by Alfred Anderson and Broderick Sargent, Baylor drove 87 yards in eight plays for its first score. Cody Carlson hit all-American Gerald McNeil with a 12-yard TD strike.

Oklahoma State scored its final points of the night on a 44-yard field goal by Larry Roach after Jim Mueller's onside kick attempt failed. The Cowboys drove from midfield to Baylor's 27-yard line before settling for the field goal with 21 seconds left in the half.

Rusty Hilger missed the second half after being knocked out by BU linebacker Robert Watters and was replaced by reserve quarterback Ike Jackson. Jackson moved OSU to the Baylor five early in the third quarter but Thomas Everett, Aaron Grant and Kevin Hancock led one of BU's best defensive stands of the year. Roach's field goal attempt was blocked by Ervin Randle.

Both of Baylor's interceptions came in the last period; Tom Muecke and Cody Carlson threw one each as the Bears hurried to catch up. McNeil took a 28-yard halfback option pass from Anderson and Marty Jimmerson kicked the PAT to cut OSU's lead to 10 with 5:14 remaining. Baylor's hopes were dashed for good when Muecke was trapped for a loss of five on fourth down with 1:10 showing on the OSU 45.

Hancock led Baylor defensively with 14 tackles while Paul Mergenhagen added 10.

Anderson was selected Baylor's MVP after rushing for 103 yards on 21 carries. McNeil's 163 yards receiving tied the individual bowl record set 20 years earlier by another Bear—James Ingram.

Baylor fashioned one of its finest bowl efforts ever in beating LSU 21-7 in the 27th Liberty Bowl Football Classic.

The Bears dominated virtually every phase of the game. They gained 489 yards total offense to the Tigers' 192. Baylor led in first downs (26-9), rushing yards (215-92), passing yards (274-101), yards per snap (5.4-3.3) and time of possession (37:14-22:46).

The Baylor defense played so well the second half LSU gained only 72 yards on 26 plays. In the third quarter the Tigers had 11 yards total offense on nine snaps.

LSU got on the board first with a 79-yard Norman Jefferson punt return. That play, a Liberty Bowl record, came with 5:17 remaining in the first quarter and turned out to be LSU's only fireworks of the cool, clear evening.

The Bears took the ensuing kickoff and marched 80 yards in seven plays to knot the score at seven. On a third and goal from the five, quarterback Cody Carlson hit a diving Matt Clark in the corner of the end zone. Terry Syler added the extra point.

Syler made it 10-7 with his 29-yard field goal with 5:36 left in the first half and upped the score to 13-7 with a 35-yarder early in the third quarter.

Baylor's final tally came when Carlson connected with John Simpson on a 15-yard scoring strike with 10:42 left to play. The junior quarterback, who was named the game's Most Valuable Player, then hit Clark for a two-point conversion, making the final score 21-7.

In addition to Carlson, Simpson was named Baylor's Outstanding Offensive Player on the strength of his three catches for 117 yards, including a 59-yarder which helped set up a Syler field goal. Cornerback Ron Francis, who had an interception, fumble recovery and six tackles was named Baylor's Outstanding Defensive Player.

Baylor's defense, led by Most Valuable Player Ray Berry, stymied Colorado's wishbone offense to key a 21-9 Bear win in the 28th Bluebonnet Bowl.

The Bears limited the Big Eight runner-up Buffaloes to only 194 total net yards, 83 of which came on the ground. Berry, called a "one man wrecking crew" by sportswriters after the game, accounted for 12 tackles, three of which resulted in 12 yards in losses.

With the win Baylor finished the season 9-3 and ranked as the Southwest Conference's highest team in the national polls. Sports Illustrated listed the Bears in the No. 8 spot while the Associated Press ranked BU No. 12 and the United Press International No. 13.

Colorado found out early what kind of day it would be for the Baylor defensive squad. They managed only one field goal and 77 yards total offense in their first eight possessions through nearly three quarters of play. Meanwhile, Baylor's offense did what it had to do, scoring a touchdown in each of those first three quarters.

The first Bear TD capped a 12-play, 64-yard drive in the first quarter. The drive was kept alive by a CU offsidess penalty when Baylor was in punt formation. The highlight play was a 22-yard run off tackle by Derrick McAdoo down to the Colorado five. Four plays later, McAdoo, a senior from Houston, dove over from the one on a fourth-down play.

Baylor next hit pay dirt midway through the second stanza. It took only three plays to go eight yards after Keith Rose recovered an errant Colorado pitch. Quarterback Cody Carlson hit flanker Darnell Chase in the corner of the end zone on a two-yard scoring strike.

Another turnover gobbled up by the BU defense set up Baylor's final score. Robert Watters sacked the Buff QB and Berry recovered on the 21. It took only four plays, one of which was a 17-yard shot from Carlson to Matt Clark, before McAdoo tied the BU school record with two TDs in a bowl game.

The rest of the way it was just a matter of letting the defense do its thing while younger players got valuable experience. Carlson saw no action in the fourth quarter because of a bruised shoulder.

In addition to scoring twice McAdoo led Bear rushers with 36 yards. Jeffrey Murray was right behind with 35. Carlson completed 11 of 22 passes for 136 yards and Clark was the biggest recipient. He caught three for 58 steps.

Free safety Mike Welch (above) was the Southwest Conference's only first-team GTE Academic All-America pick in football last year. He is one of many outstanding scholar-athletes at Baylor. Track team member Lisa Stone was an NCAA All-America performer for 10,000-meters and, like Welch, was a first-team GTE Academic All-America.

"We are most pleased that we have a 70 percent graduation rate by the end of the sixth year for all of our student athletes, scholarship and nonscholarship."
